Costello Facing New Citation For Contempt

Life Of Kefauver Probe Committee Extended Month

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Frank Costello faces a new contempt citation today from the Kefauver crime investigating committee, whose life was extended 30 days by the Senate.

The New York gambler, currently vacationing in Florida, was cited for refusing to tell the committee the size of his fortune.

An earlier citation, based on Costello's "walkout" from a New York hearing was dropped because Costello eventually returned for further questioning. Conviction on contempt of Congress charges carries possible penalties of a year in jail, $1,000 fine, or both.

Truman Backs O'Dwyer

One of the committee's most prominent witnesses, ambassador to Mexico William O'Dwyer, got a clean bill of health from President Truman, who told his news conference emphatically that he would not remove the former New York mayor from his present post. O'Dwyer's testimony differed from that of John Crane, a fireman's union official, over political campaign contributions. Both men were under oath.

With only six Senators on the floor, the Senate adopted unanimously a resolution extending the life of the committee until May 1 to give it time in which to write its report and submit recommendations for new laws.

Contempt Citations Pending

Sen. Hunt (D) Wyo., the only crime committee member present when the extension was granted, reported that in the turbulent 10 months, the committee heard 764 witnesses in 15 cities at 264 public and closed door hearings.

Contempt citations are pending, either voted by the Senate or still in the committee, against 32 witnesses. Seven of the 25 whom the Senate voted arrest warrants still are missing.

In St. Louis a recent witness before the committee, betting commissioner James J. Carroll, posted $5,000 bond to guarantee his federal court appearance today on charges that he failed to report payments he made in his multimillion dollar gambling business.

Have you noticed that the evenings seemingly are getting longer as summer approaches. It is about seven o'clock now before the evenings are entirely dark, permitting boys and girls to have more outdoor play before being called into the house.

The day of the Postal Note, which has been in use in the Post Office for only a short time, is doomed. Postal authorities in Washington report that no further postal notes will be issued after March 31. On July 1, a new system of issuing money orders will be placed in use by the postal department.

PA New is hoping that the long range forecasters are very much wrong this summer. Scanning the almanacs, the predictors state that we are in for an unusually damp summer. After such an unusual winter, local residents were hoping that it was a sign of a very pleasant summer which would compensate for the rough sailing the local area experienced.

Many farmers in the rural areas are readying tractors and plows in order that they may soon turn over soil for next season's crops. (Continued on Page Two)

W. Sharp Fullerton, Past Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, speaks at a testimonial dinner in his honor given by the Grangers at the Cathedral Thursday night.

Grangers Pay Honor To Past State Master

Nearly 400 Gather In Cathedral For Testimonial Dinner

Lawrence County Grangers to the number of nearly 400 gathered in The Cathedral Thursday evening to pay tribute to the outstanding leadership of W. Sharp Fullerton, who recently relinquished the office of State Master, after six years of service to the Grange. In addition to local Grangers, there were many present from surrounding communities, including the new State Master, Beatty H. Dimitt, of Indiana, Pa., and other state officers, as well as Pomona Masters.

The event was an outstanding one in every respect, and a fine program was presented, with W. B. Wallace, of Little Beaver, serving most capably in the role of toastmaster of the evening.

First of all the evening started off with a fine turkey dinner, with all the things that go along to make such a menu tempting.

Program Opens

The invocation was given by Rev. James Crawford, pastor of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church. Pep singing was led by Bill McCombs, accompanied by Mrs. E. J. Moss, and some fine musical numbers were presented by the Pleasant Hill Grange Chorus, and Beaver County male quartet, winners of last year's state grange contests.

Mrs. Vernon Norris, of Butler county, State Lecturer, brought greetings and recalled the splendid associations she had with Mr. Fullerton, during his term of office. One virtue he had above all others, (Continued on Page Six)

Much Debris Picked Up Near Scene Of Plane Disaster

LONDON, March 30.—(INS)—American Air Force headquarters in Britain said today that the destroyer Benner searching for the missing Globemaster transport plane had found 105 pieces of debris over a five-mile radius in the Atlantic southwest of Ireland.

The Benner picked up the debris in the same area where a platform believed to have come from the lost American plane was located earlier.

An Air Force spokesman said that 30 per cent of the pieces were charred and splintered. One piece of plywood was identified as Douglas Aircraft floorboard material. Another piece bore a Douglas part number.

The Globemaster which was carrying 53 men when it disappeared was built by Douglas Aircraft. The Air Force spokesman refused to say positively whether it appeared that an explosion had occurred aboard the plane.

Truman's Authority On Air Bases Abroad Challenged

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(INS)—Senate minority leader Wherry challenged President Truman's authority today to build American air bases abroad or to integrate U. S. Naval units with the British Navy.

The Nebraska Republican, in a prepared Senate speech, added this to his overall denial that the President has authority to assign American ground troops to a European army without congressional approval. Wherry favors both strengthening sea power and circling Russia with a "ring of air bases" but he said Congress should make a "thorough exploration" of all the President had done in that direction.

The floor leader asked: "By what authority is the President doing all of this?" Wherry said the Department of Defense has not satisfied him that the President has authority to make agreements for establishing the air bases. He added that Navy (Continued on Page Two)

Convicted Trio To Make Appeal To High Court

Three Found Guilty In Atomic Bomb Trial To Appeal

By JAMES L. KIGALLEN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, March 30.—Attorneys for two men and a woman found guilty of conspiring to turn over America's atom-bomb secrets to Russia planned an appeal today "right up to the highest court in the land."

The convicted defendants in America's first atom espionage death in the electric chair for trial face a maximum penalty of their wartime violations.

Think Truman May Have Plans To Run Again

By JOHN BOOTH
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Truman has the leaders of both major political parties speculating today whether he is going to be a candidate for reelection in 1952.

Both Democrats and Republicans believe that he will probably seek re-election, despite the recent adoption of the 22nd amendment, which limits the term of office of all future presidents to two terms. Adoption of the amendment would seem to indicate that the people believe two terms in the White House is enough for any man, but President Truman is specifically exempt from provisions of the amendment.

Wave Of Speculation

The chief executive actually would be seeking his third term in office, since he has been elected once, in 1948, and served his first years in the White House as a result of the death of President Roosevelt April 12, 1945.

Mr. Truman touched off the wave of speculation by telling his news conference that he has made up his mind what he is going to do in 1952, but that nobody else knew his plans.

Questioned about the Democratic National Convention next year, Mr. Truman said that he would have something to say about what goes on at the convention, just as he did in 1948.

It is apparent that the Democratic National Committee, including Chairman Boyle, believes that Mr. Truman will seek re-election.

HOLLYWOOD, March 30.—Hollywood hailed Jose Ferrer and Judy Holliday its new royal family of filmdom today even though the kind and queen were several thousand miles away when they were awarded their Oscars last night.

Judy, who won an academy award for the best actress performance of the year, and Jose, who grabbed best actor honors, were in New York.

Best picture of the year was "All About Eve".

Judy, capitulated to screen fame in two screen roles, won an Oscar for her dumb blonde role in "Born Yesterday". She stole the thunder of veteran troupers Gloria Swanson, Bette Davis, Ann Baxter and Eleanor Parker for Hollywood's most coveted prize.

Ferrer got his Oscar for the title role in the film story of the classic hero of literature, "Cyrano de Bergerac".

Hiss Starts Serving Five-Year Sentence At Lewisburg Prison

LEWISBURG, Pa., March 30.—(INS)—Warden George Humphrey of the federal prison at Lewisburg, insisted today that former State department official Alger Hiss, serving five years for perjury, will be treated "just like any other convict."

Humphrey said the 46-year-old Hiss will get no special privileges or preferential treatment.

Humphrey said Hiss was given a uniform "just like anyone else" and placed in an "orientation section" for 30 days.

The warden declared the penitentiary's classification committee will determine during Hiss' month of quarantine "whether he will be kept at Lewisburg or sent elsewhere" to another federal prison.

Humphrey pointed out that Hiss is not in solitary confinement, but in a section isolated from the main group of prisoners.

Hiss was taken to Lewisburg from the New York federal detention house to begin his five-year term. He surrendered on March 22 after the U. S. Supreme Court declined to review his appeal.

Hiss was convicted on January 21, 1950, on two counts of perjury.

Strongest Air Display Of War Made By Reds

Jet-Fighters Tangle In Dogfights Over Northeast Korea

By LEE FERRERO
(N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 31.—(Saturday)—American big guns hurled a series of artillery barrages against vanguards of a quarter-million man Chinese army on Korea's west and central fronts Friday, stalling one counter-attack and blasting reinforced Red positions.

International News Service War Correspondent Cecil Brownlow reported from the central front that Chinese Reds had bolstered their defense lines five to six miles below Parallel 38 above the Allied base of Chunchon.

"Operation Killer" Tactics

Allied armored patrols rammed into enemy entrenchments which only last week were harassing outposts. Reverting to the famed "Operation Killer" tactics, the United States tanks withdrew on first contact with the Red defense line. Then UN commanders called in the big guns for a merciless blasting of forward elements of some 80,000 Chinese concentrated in a 150-square-mile triangle north of Chunchon.

Brownlow said an estimated 10,000 Chinese were blocking the road between Chunchon and Hwachon, eight miles north of the parallel.

Farther west American artillery fire slammed at almost point-blank range into mountain trail to stop an attempted Red counterattack in its tracks.

Big Guns Belch

The big guns continued belching flame and steel through the night and into early hours of the morning at the Reds who were showing a new determination to hold ground after several weeks of withdrawal.

International News Service War Correspondent Don A. Schanche reported from the west sector Friday night that the southern enemy thrust above Uijongbu was broken up by sundown after day-long fighting, including grenade duels.

The dispatch said American artillery fire caught Chinese troops of "unknown numbers" moving down mountain trails for a counter-attack. A full-fledged Red onslaught had not yet developed at 8 p.m. (6 a.m. EST), Schanche related.

Earlier in the day, a spokesman for an American division on the west front said a U. S. Army patrol (Continued on Page Two)

Just like a lamb was the way she came in, quiet and balmy and graceful, ah quite smiling her best through a mantle of sunbeams, covering us with a star quilt at night. In like a lamb, well she didn't stay that way; soon like a lion she roared and she blew, chilly and snowy and mushy and icy, can't be too mad at her now that she's through. Hope that Miss April is friendly and warming, gives us a prelude of sunny faced May, but March will go out like a lion, I reckon; raining and drizzling—it's 56 today.

Rationing To Be Planned

Fertilizers Made From Sulfur Affected

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(INS)—Chemical fertilizer officials say that the government soon will set up a system for rationing fertilizers made from sulfur.

They said that Agriculture Department and National Production Authority officials are meeting with their industry to work out a ration program.

The industry spokesmen say that the government can either restrict drastically shipments abroad of fertilizer or it can impose rationing domestically. Rationing is held more practical because of the sensitivity of international trade in fertilizers.

Such rationing, the industry sources say, would be based on the shortage of sulfuric acid, the basis of phosphate fertilizers. The government estimates that farm demand of such fertilizers this year will exceed the supply by more than 10 per cent.

The Agriculture Department reports that feed markets were unsettled during the week ended March 27.

Offerings of wheat millfeeds slackened as a result of reduced production, but market supplies of corn byproduct feeds and most oilseed meals were adequate for trade needs.

Wheat millfeed prices strengthened during the week and at the close ranged from $1 to $2 higher than a week earlier. Corn feeds were barely steady.

Agricultural scientists have developed an improved kind of synthetic rubber from milk and corn. The new rubber, known as lactoprene bn, has "outstanding" resistance to heat, water, oils, below-zero temperatures and aging. It is superior to natural and other synthetic rubbers for such uses as oil seals in automobile transmissions, refrigerator seals, gaskets and linings for fuel tanks.

Lactoprene bn was developed by scientists at the department's eastern regional research laboratory in Philadelphia. It is made from butyl acrylate and acrylonitrile, compounds produced from milk or corn sugars.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics says that production of liquid egg during February continued on a relatively small scale.

Production last month totaled slightly less than 35 million pounds, compared with 73 million pounds during February last year.

Dried egg production also was reported much below last year.

The ground is yet too wet yet to do much plowing and other outdoor work. Fence mending and painting of buildings are the chief occupations being undertaken by the agriculturists at this time.

Series of April fool jokes which are performed annually, will be more or less curtailed this year due to the fact that the day falls on Sunday. Office workers are generally the blunt of the practical jokes who revel in tricking their office partners.

New York City is now inaugurating the curb mailing service for use of motorists, it is learned. New Castle has been ahead of the nation's largest city for about a year now. Postal service for motorists was started on the Public Square adjacent to the Post Office many months ago by Postmaster William Hanna. Letters may be mailed without patrons having to alight from their car.

Unthinking motorists are causing quite a traffic bottleneck at the light recently installed at Lathrop and East Washington streets. Motorists traveling west on East Washington street report that while cars are waiting to turn into Lathrop street, west-bound traffic is prevented from proceeding by cars parked on the north side of Washington street. Some no-parking signs should iron out the problem, it is suggested.

penetrated four miles north of the 38th Parallel, but stated later he was unable to confirm that the Yank spearhead had crossed into North Korea.

Strong Air Display

Increasing Red aggressiveness a few miles below Parallel 38 in the west and central sectors coincided with the Korean War's strongest display of enemy air power as 38 Russian-type MIG-15 jets tangled with nearly as many American jet fighters.

Two all-jet dogfights broke out over Northeast Korea's Sinuiju area Friday as 38 B-29 Superforts attacked Yalu bridges in what was officially termed "the most concentrated air bombardment of this bridge system." At least one MIG was downed and two others damaged.

A Friday night dispatch by International News Service War Correspondent Don A. Schanche said the western front said Chinese forces "of unknown strength" counter-attacked north of Uijongbu late in the afternoon.

The Chinese opened their counter-attack, Schanche said, "after stubbornly resisting" American and other United Nations troops throughout the day.

Self-Propelled Guns

Earlier Friday, an American patrol sliced almost up Parallel 38 but ran into heavy Chinese fire from self-propelled guns just below the artificial dividing line between South and North Korea.

Schanche quoted a spokesman for an American division on the flaming west front as stating at 7 o'clock Friday evening (EST) that he did not have details of the Chinese counter-attack north of Uijongbu.

The dispatch said further that only "light" Chinese resistance was met northwest of Uijongbu as the Eighth Army's U forces spent the day straightening out their lines. Uijongbu is 11 miles due north of Seoul, the recently liberated South Korean capital.

On the mountainous central front, Chinese Communist troops lobbed mortar shells and sprayed machine gun bullets onto the northern outskirts of the Allied base of Chunchon, seven miles south of the parallel.

American intelligence officers said the Chinese invaders were reported to have massed 200,000 to 250,000 troops just above the parallel along a 60-mile line for an anticipated major counter-offensive on the west and central fronts.

AWAIT LIST OF SHIPPING FIRM STOCKHOLDERS

Commission said that the list of 1947 stockholders will include such names as:

May Be Included

World War II hero, Adm. William F. Halsey, former Secretary of State Edward Stettinius and former assistant Secretary of State Julius C. Holmes, now American minister to London.

These, it was stated, all held shares in the Overseas Tanker Corp., organized by ex-Rep. Joseph Casey (D) Mass., now a Washington attorney.

Also involved in the deal was Joseph H. Rosenbaum, another Washington attorney, closely connected with E. Merle Young, husband of a White House stenographer, and who has been accused, with Young, of "influence peddling."

Got Huge Profit

Casey set up the corporation with a stockholders' investment of $100,000, borrowed $10 millions from a large insurance company, bought five tankers from the Maritime Commission and chartered them to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

On the original $100,000 investment, the stockholders realized a $2.8 million profit when the ships were eventually sold, according to testimony before the Senate influence sub-committee headed by Chairman Fulbright (D) Ark.

Casey has balked at telling the Fulbright group about the transaction, contending that it was set up to look into the RFC and has no jurisdiction over a Maritime Commission matter.

when asked whether MacArthur would proceed to the Manchurian border.

Mr. Truman also sidestepped an answer when asked about current reports that the UN nations, allied in Korea, would submit a new peace offer to Red China. Reports in Washington say the offer is being delayed to secure approval from the home governments of all participating allies.

The president settled all confusion about MacArthur's status. Mr. Truman gave him a full vote of confidence.

Psychologist Says Gambler's Claim Entirely Wrong

BOSTON, March 30.—(INS)—A Boston university psychologist quarreled today with the claim of St. Louis betting commissioner James Carroll before the Kefauver committee that gambling is a biological necessity.

The psychologist, Bernard Klass, said that not only is there "absolutely no biological need for gambling" but if gamblers quit and tried something else for a living some of them probably would do well in constructive activities.

REENFORCING THE LAW

As a fact-finding body, the first purpose of the Kefauver committee is to recommend to Congress legislation aimed at interstate crime and gambling. To this end politicians and racketeers, most of whom cannot remember or do not intend to incriminate themselves, have been parading to the witness stand.

But the other day the committee heard from two experts on the right side of the law—Attorney General McGrath and FBI Director Hoover.

Mr. McGrath wasn't able to tell the committee much that it hadn't already discovered. Long before he appeared, the committee had learned of the inadequacy of existing laws in coping with the political-criminal partnerships that foster organized crime.

From Mr. McGrath the committee and the country learned—if both had not already learned from the case of Harry Bridges—how difficult it is to get rid of an alien once he has surmounted the hurdle of a naturalization court. The subject of Mr. McGrath's testimony was, of course, Frank Costello.

As Mr. McGrath interprets the law, the country is stuck with Costello under existing deportation laws. But perhaps Congress, however belatedly, can now be persuaded to jack up naturalization processes and let down the deportation bars.

Mr. Hoover testified to what has long been obvious, namely, that laws against crime and racketeering can be enforced best by local authorities. State governments can reinforce inadequate laws. But the states will do so with the full knowledge that the strongest laws are worthless when officials, assigned to enforce them, can be corrupted by money or politics.

TEEN-AGE ADDICTS

Of the numerous social ills which afflict the nation, the saddest and most shocking is the increasing number of drug addicts among young people, especially those of high school age. The evidence appears almost daily in the newspapers.

Recently two men who ought to know laid the facts on the line. Samuel Levine, a federal narcotics agent, before the Kefauver committee, testified that the habit begins with marijuana, but the addict soon progresses to heroin, morphine and cocaine. Dr. J. H. Anslinger, commissioner of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, told a House Appropriations subcommittee that it costs from $6 to $15 a day to satisfy the craving for heroin, a high cost which drives teen-agers to crime.

The experts know what needs to be done. Dr. Anslinger recommends much tougher jail sentences for drug peddlers, and better enforcement work. Mr. Levine recommends compulsory treatment for addicts. He also favors greater severity in punishing peddlers, who are "dedicated to a life of lawlessness."

Facilities for treating addicts are everywhere inadequate. So terrible are the consequences of the traffic that some public officials go so far as to suggest that persistent peddling, especially when sales are made to teen-agers, be made a capital offense.

It seems obvious that increased facilities for treatment and increased penalties for illegal distribution of narcotics must go hand in hand. Neither remedy by itself would be wholly effective.

PLUMPNESS AS A MENACE

Those who are allergic to mosquitoes should watch that poundage. That's what Dr. A. W. A. Brown of the University of Western Ontario would advise. Dr. Brown told the American Mosquito Control Association at Chicago he has discovered that the pestiferous insects are particularly fond of plump persons dressed in black. But though they have their distinct preferences, they will try to bite even billiard balls.

Dr. Brown was not joking. He has conducted two years of study both in the laboratory and in the field, financed by the Canadian government, in an effort to learn how to protect soldiers in the tundra regions of the far north, where mosquitoes breed and a multiplicity of their bites can actually kill a man.

In temperate and tropical zones everyone is familiar with the successful fight against mosquitoes as spreaders of disease, but they are not regarded as killers per se, and many will be surprised to know that is a role they sometimes play in swampy regions near the Arctic Circle.

Persons perspiring and breathing heavily anywhere are particular marks for the prong of the mosquito. When within three feet of an individual it knows it has found its object, but often zigzags about before its attack, seeking heat and moisture in proportions it likes.

Robots rigged up by Dr. Brown and his assistants with simulated breathing were attacked at the rate of 200 mosquitoes a minute. Such warfare is unknown in the United States. This Canadian experiment is just one more of those being conducted in every area of the globe to restrict humanity's living foes at least to its own kind.

Mah jong (Chinese checkers, to you) is advertised as a special attraction of a Tokyo Turkish bath. Can't get steamed up over that.

The swallows, this spring, again arrived at the Mission San Juan Capistrano on schedule. The little birds, apparently, haven't heard that in these topsy-turvy days hardly anything occurs according to Hoyle.

Seek American Tourists

The visit of President Vincent Auriol, the first French chief executive to come to the United States while in office, gave emphasis to the vigorous efforts by both France and Great Britain to attract hordes of American tourists this summer.

France is making a great to-do about the fact that this year marks the 2,000th birthday of the city of Paris.

England is staging the festival of Britain, which promises to be a tremendous show and its sponsors are keeping their fingers crossed in the hope it will produce a revenue justifying the terrific expense involved.

Hard Year Behind

Both countries have put a hard year behind them. France has had strikes and one political crisis on top of another. The rearmament of western Europe has meant increased taxes and higher prices and much of the gaiety has been rubbed out of the life of the average Parisian.

Britain has undergone stricter rationing and bitter political disputes which have placed the country on edge. In addition, this has been the wettest year on record. The country has not been free of rain since last November. Much arable land has become water-logged, crops have been wiped out and many head of livestock lost.

But the labor government of Prime Minister Attlee has pushed doggedly ahead with the extensive preparations. Visitors to England at the present time report in advance that the festival should be a thing of beauty and enchantment.

Biggest Exposition

The festival is not only the biggest exposition of its kind that Britain ever attempted, but it will be unique in that it will cover the entire British Isles.

The government recruited Britain's best artists, architects, musicians, designers and theatrical planners to make it all possible.

London, of course, will be the center of attraction. Miles of Thames River slums have been pulled down to make way for exhibition buildings, some of which will remain for permanent use. The skyline of the old city has been altered radically.

In addition to the slum cleanup made possible by the new construction work, England has been able to remove much of the defacement by falling bombs. Excavations in some cases have been put to permanent underground use and in general, the face of the city has changed with no damage to the places of historic interest upon which Britain has depended to attract visitors in the past.

Represents Nation

There will not be a major city in England, Scotland and Wales without its local contribution to the festival, and the same applies to towns and even hamlets. Concerts, art exhibitions, industrial shows, singing festivals, demonstrations and the inevitable midways for funsters will dot the islands from top to bottom.

The sponsors are convinced that the festival will prove to the world dramatically that despite the hardships of two long wars, raw material shortages and other handicaps, Britain still can claim leadership in many of the prime factors that go into the creation of a full and pleasurable human existence.

Paris, of course, is always a magnet but the birthday celebrations will see this one-time Roman fortress city at its sparkling best. In both Paris and London, tourists will find meals expensive. But, concertgoers are doing everything to make things as easy as possible for visitors and pleasant as well.

President Auriol made it clear on his arrival that his visit has no political implications. He stressed the friendship between the two nations.

One Man's Opinion

Everyone seems to feel that Kefauver and Fulbright will be men to watch in '52 because they've told us whom to watch in '51.

But the government has come up with the standard formula for curbing crime . . . Put a bigger tax bite on the criminals.

The way it works out now, the reward of good citizenship and the penalty of crime are about the same . . . A bigger tax bite.

Anyhow, if Estes wants to run, there will be no objection from the headline writers . . . His name takes five letters, just like Harry.

And if Estes hasn't got a campaign song, I would suggest "Estesally For You". The slogan, of course, will be "Vote For Kefauver For An Estes-Special Bargain".

No one has mentioned Tobey for president, but I hear one net work is whipping up a program to be titled "Tobey's Tea Party" featuring interviews with departing guests.

WASHINGTON—French President Auriol—"France is resolutely determined to defend itself against any aggression because it knows what it is to be occupied."

NEW YORK—Gen. Sir William Morgan, wartime British commander in the Mediterranean—"Every day that we remain on unequal terms with Russia is a risk time not on our side."

NEW YORK—Tehi Chang Yun, South Korean minister to Britain—"Gen. MacArthur's leadership is superb. He should have greater freedom to fight the war, and to bomb wherever necessary."

BOSTON—Army Secretary Pace—"If we are to survive, the public must give way to optimism as the result of local successes."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VALUES OF HOME WORKSHOP

Many a lad who lags at books excels at tools. Such boys on the farm usually have a good opportunity to develop their talents and derive great satisfaction in doing so. In any home are things to fix from time to time and the boy or girl encouraged to fix these things can not only grow in usefulness but can also gain a feeling of worthwhileness. Fortunately the child who has tools and a workshop at home, to which he adds more and more tools and materials as he grows older.

Around tools and their use a child can increase his interests and skills at reading. There's hardly a better way for a poor reader to learn better than to dig out and follow directions for making things. Such reading is not just pronouncing words but getting meaning from the printed page.

Apt At Tools

What an opportunity parents have to help the child slow at books but apt at tools for stimulating him to practice well at reading—through all sorts of catalogues and magazines which show him how to make simple things, use and assemble tools and machinery. Most of the children's magazines carry good materials of this sort, some more than others; and there are magazines, too, which stimulate and guide the older child and adult in making and doing things for fun as well as for utility. My bulletin "Home Helps for Poor Readers" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

For the lad in his later teens an old car can be a means for stimulating his interests and skills in craftsmanship. Working on the thing in spare hours over weeks and months, often with some pals helping him, he may be kept profitably busy at home. Wisely, some fathers buy an old broken-down jalopy for such purpose.

Grave Hazards

But this enterprise often has grave hazards. Naturally, the youth is willing to labor on the old car for a long, long while because he hopes to run it by and by. And before the father has supposed the car will run it may be out on the street, in violation of various traffic laws. It may lack proper license plates, and the young driver may have no driver's license and no training as a driver. Besides, there may be no liability and property insurance on this car. An accident, and the father may have a big fine or damage claim to pay, not to mention the possible injury or death of the boy driver and other persons.

The father providing an old jalopy for his son to work on should first be sure his son is dependable and will conform to essential requirements. These requirements clearly defined beforehand should include the father's inspection, or better the inspection by a garage expert, of the car; official licensing of the car and driver; adequate insurance, and proper training of the driver before the car may leave the garage. These understandings should be clearly assured before the lad begins to work on the car.

With new cars growing scarcer, there'll be more and more jalopies on the road, and by youths at great risk to the lives of many innocent persons. Parents are responsible and they need to shoulder this responsibility at once. No matter how little control a parent may have over his adolescent youth, he still easily can refuse to sign a permit allowing his youth to own a car and drive one.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Next week will be a busy one . . . socially that is. First of all there will be the Metropolitan Concert . . . The Barber of Seville. This popular opera will attract people from all over the western part of Pennsylvania. And if you haven't your ticket . . . better get busy right now and do some phone calling and the numbers that will do you some good are 5560 and 4835.

The come next Friday evening . . . in the Morgan Motor Building will be the center of attraction with the Humane Society Auction Sale . . . And it is already proving very interesting . . . but could stand your personal attention. Items are needed for this sale . . . and to make the will, of course, sell better and the money of this auction sale will be used to build an animal shelter. And no one needs to tell you or your neighbors how much such an item is needed. Now all you must do to make your auction gift show up at the big sale next Friday . . . is call 2917. Give your name and address and a truck will be dispatched to pick up your donation. Won't you do that right now.

And to finish off next week . . . a very interesting, pleasing and educational program will be held in the auditorium of the Cathedral . . . And this time hundreds from all over Pennsylvania and Ohio will jam the seats . . . for it will be Barber Shop Quartet time. Some of the best singers in this area will vie for the honors. Our own local group is no slouch outfit . . . New Castle has been noted for years and years as the home of singers and musicians. You personally know many of them . . . Saturday night you will have the opportunity of meeting many new ones . . . so make Saturday a must on your entertainment list.

Three big events . . . for this coming week . . . What community can offer more . . . a real Opera . . . a live auction . . . and the familiar Barber Shop singing. New Castle again proves that all around entertainment is offered.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Gen. MacArthur's Broadside Result

WASHINGTON, March 30.—In the effort to bring some kind of peace to Korea the mistakes and the mischances add up to a grim kind of comedy. And in the end, as MacArthur knows so well, that kind of loss of face is intolerable.

Representatives of the 14 nations here and at Lake Success probably will continue to work out a new agreed approach to Peiping. But they will do so in an atmosphere of futility and doubt.

Seriousness of Damage

The seriousness of the damage now done can be measured only by an appraisal of what the chances were prior to the MacArthur pronouncement for a negotiated settlement. Even those most critical of the way in which the general rushed in where angels were fearing to tread concede that these chances were slight to the point of being nonexistent.

Through neutral diplomats repeated attempts had been made to get the communists to give some sign that they were interested in talking about a cease-fire. At least four times one patient emissary went to the foreign office in Peiping to take soundings. Each time he came up against a wall of indifference. These efforts were in addition, of course, to the work of the United Nations good offices commission assigned to the job of trying to arrange talks with Peiping.

Belief Is Growing

The belief has been growing here for some time that the Chinese were following a calculated policy of allowing the war in Korea to dwindle away. Having failed in Korea, they were adopting the familiar communist strategy of preparing to hit at another spot. Intelligence reports have indicated that this spot was Indo-China and now after an interval of comparative quiet that troubled corner of southeast Asia is once again in the news.

There are persuasive reasons why the Chinese communists should shift their direction and build up for a possible major assault against the French in Indo-China. It may well be, in the view of informed observers, that this target of informed observers, that this target has been given priority not only over continuation of large-scale war in Korea but over an attack on the island of Formosa and the last of Chiang Kai-shek's armies on that island.

No Water Barrier

No water barrier separates China from Indo-China. Across a land frontier inadequately defended communists can send their greatest military asset—mass manpower. That asset has been scaled down by heavy losses in Korea. But it still is formidable strength in being whereas the ships to cross to Formosa and the planes to protect those ships do not exist. A mass assault on Indo-China would present the United States with the necessity for making new and difficult decisions. The state department is backing the French effort to put down the communist-led Viet Minh rebels with American planes and guns supplied to the French army of some 150,000 men. American pressure along with this backing has produced needed changes in the French approach to the problem of French controls in what was once a French colony. But in the face of a mass attack arms alone would not be enough.

At the same time at least some of the American force would be committed to Korea to prevent a recurrence of what happened last June. And while the Korean war news tends to get less and less attention, the real sufferers would be the men who are still stuck in the mud and blood and filth of that unhappy land. To them it is no comedy, grim or otherwise, nor is it to the wretched Korean people who have seen war smash everything flat.

State Police Say:

You must learn to respect speed. If you are traveling at 30 miles an hour and hit a car approaching at 30 miles an hour, you get the impact of hitting a stone wall at 60 miles per hour. If you are speeding along at 60 miles an hour it would take you 250 feet to stop on a dry pavement. That's almost a city block. At lower speeds your chances of survival in an emergency are far greater.

Divide And Conquer

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—The American State department, among other things, is a place where amateur thinkers bring their plans to save the world and from which they often go away miffed because their plans do not become at once a national policy.

Recently a university professor, whom we need not embarrass by naming, spent some time across the desk from a polite State department official. The professor had a briefcase filled with documentary proof that the USSR contains a number of "republics" which are racially and nationally different from each other and from the central state at Moscow. The professor had knowledge of underground movements within some Russian minority-nations and he was hot for a divide-and-conquer policy to weaken the Kremlin.

Having been politely heard, the professor was politely dismissed. Later he released some of his briefcase facts to a newspaper as proof of State Department stupidity. But what he didn't say, or perhaps didn't know, was that:

What He Didn't Know

1. The official who did the listening knew everything the professor knew on this subject and a great deal more.
2. Divide-and-conquer is not a policy to be lightly entered upon. There are at least as many reasons against its adoption as for it.
3. Even if divide-and-conquer be considered a sound policy, the timing of its adoption is just as important as the policy itself.

These three points deserve to be dwelt upon a little, if only because the State Department gets more than its share of public abuse and seldom deigns to come to its own defense.

It needs to be positively stated, without breaching security regulations, that the State Department spends thousands of man-hours on the study of Russian minorities. This is a hush-hush subject and cannot be detailed here. But anybody who suggests that the subject is neglected either does not know the truth or is not telling the truth. Americans can rest assured that the proper authorities know much more than they ever tell about the weaknesses of the Russian dictatorship.

Divide And Conquer Topic

Divide-and-conquer, while a topic to intrigue the amateur mind, is a practice that often leads to "biter-bit" results. A little knowledge about foreign lands is a dangerous thing, and wishful thinking is still worse. A Russian agent, for example, might visit Mississippi where the Dixiecrats roam and jump to the conclusion that the anti-Truman South is ripe for another War Between the States. The same Red agent might move along to Kansas, and sample enough Republican indignation to convince him that the Union is on its last legs.

These examples, according to State Department sources, are not too far-fetched to be applied to the USSR. A good deal of separatist talk leaks through the Iron Curtain, but it is often evaluated as exaggerated and deceptive. Even the Ukraine provinces, always cited as the seething hotbed of revolt, are judged to be less seditious than reports indicate or than our eager hearts would like to believe. For one thing, all small nationalities under the USSR feel a certain security from outside attack. They know that the Red Army, while an instrument of suppression at home, is also a strong guardian against invasion. Also, the small nationalities have a certain sentimental attachment to Mother Russia, as was well demonstrated when Hitler lunged at the Russian heartland instead of stopping out in the hinterlands. A divide-and-conquer policy might well serve to unite the Russians, rather than otherwise.

Not Piece-Meal Policy

Moreover, if divide-and-conquer were to become a policy, it ought never to be a piece-meal policy, or even a peace-time policy. Assuming that there are half a dozen underground movements in Russia, it would be folly to aid them one at a time. Each would be separately purged by the Red Army. The only logical and strategic method would be to coordinate all half-dozen rebellions into a simultaneous explosion. Yet we could not honorably do so without being ready to aid the rebels by outright war.

Thus the main argument against divide-and-conquer is contained in the policy itself. We are not seeking war, but peace. We are not dedicated to the destruction of Russia, only to the containment of Russia within her present borders. Divide-and-conquer plans are war-plans. They belong on the shelf for future reference. How immediate that future is depends on Russia, not on us.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Do please sympathize with me today. I am suffering agonies. No one has ever suffered as much as I do.

The suffering of the wounded and dying American soldiers in Korea, of the starving millions of India, the innocent thousands and thousands in Russian forced-labor camps, is nothing compared with my suffering.

FOR I HAVE BEEN HIT OVER THE HEAD WITH A DOLLAR BILL!

Hundreds of men and women I know are suffering just as intensely as I do. Thousands all over the land are in terrific pains. They have told me. They have written me. I have seen them suffer.

You see this horror all around you. Many of you must be in just as much pain as I am. Because hundreds of YOU have written and told me how awful conditions are here in America, how this country is going to the dogs—how YOU are suffering! You, too, have been hit over the head with dollar bills—and oh, how that hurts!

Sometimes I get disgusted with the way we deplore our terrible fate.

How the price of steak is going up. How it is almost impossible to have butter on our bread, sugar in our coffee, a television set, a new automobile.

Every day they are hitting us over the head with dollar bills. Every day we are suffering more and more.

Did you read in your paper that the Communist government in China is planning to murder 150 million of its citizens because it is impossible to feed them and because hunger causes rebellion?

I don't know whether the report is true—but I personally believe it.

Did you read how little the once proud English people have to live on these days? Do you know that the average Spaniard has to work two full days to afford to buy a dozen eggs?

Do you, by any chance, remember our own story of Valley Forge?

Our present "deplorable" way of living would be considered an undreamed of height of luxury by nine-tenths of the population of this earth.

What we have left after paying all our taxes and assessments would be deemed a fortune by that same nine-tenths.

What we, the average Americans, throw into our garbage cans would be Lucullan banquets for millions.

The trouble with us is that we have become a nation of spoiled brats.

What do we know about the ravages of war?

What do we know about living under the tyranny of dictators, about subsisting on offal, about staying awake nights in dreadful fear of invaders, and the still more dreadful fear of tomorrow?

Thousands of our boys are being killed and maimed again to save us at home from losing all the things that alone are worth the living.

Yet we have the colossal nerve to complain because we have been hit over the head with dollar bills. And when I say "we" I regret to have to include myself.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—(INS)—Honey-tressed Marilyn Monroe, hailed as the new Jean Harlow, gives full credit to her assorted blemishes—a couple of moles—for her screen success.

"Time was," says the blonde charmer, "when I felt the moles made me the original version of the ugly duckling. Now I realize what a distinct asset they are."

The screen newcomer, regarded as one of the most provocative creatures on the Hollywood scene, is currently adding her bewitching allure—mole and all—to 20th Century-Fox's "Will You Love Me In December?" in which she plays a sirenish secretary.

Beautiful Talk

The one-time photographer's model, recently acclaimed by the discerning editors of Stars and Stripes, as "Miss Cheesecake of 1951," points out that Hollywood boasts more beautiful girls than any other city in the world.

"It has reached the point where beauty alone isn't enough," elucidates Marilyn. "A girl has to have something more—a unique personality, a certain charm, a distinctive character."

In her own case the pulchritudinous starlet says her moles have helped set her apart from the run-of-the-mill actress trying to get a footing on Hollywood's slippery ladder to success.

Leave It Alone

One of the "beauty spots" is prominently displayed on Miss Monroe's left cheek, just above the lip. Make-up men at times have set about to cover it over with pancake cosmetics, but the actress raises such a fuss that they quickly mend their ways.

The other mole is located roughly four inches due south of the starlet's right clavicle, and it won't be seen in her current picture because her wardrobe gives her extremely high neck lines.

"It's no wonder," says Miss Monroe, "that women sometimes daub on beauty spots. They add the finishing touch."

She recommends such focal points of interest both for ravishing beauties and plainer women, explaining that the spots help divert attention from various other features which might not be quite as perfect as desired.

Very Nice Assist

Miss Monroe credits her moles with an assist in winning her the "Will You Love Me In December?" role, pointing out that Director Harmon Jones interviewed dozens of stunning girls before being brought up short by Marilyn and her moles.

"And just to think," she recalls with alarm, "I almost cut off my career at the start when, for a time, I was actually thinking of having the moles removed."

Marilyn entered the Hollywood scene as Louis Calhern's girl friend in "Asphalt Jungle." She scored again as George Sanders' girl friend in "All About Eve."

Seek To Reduce Accidents Among Children In April

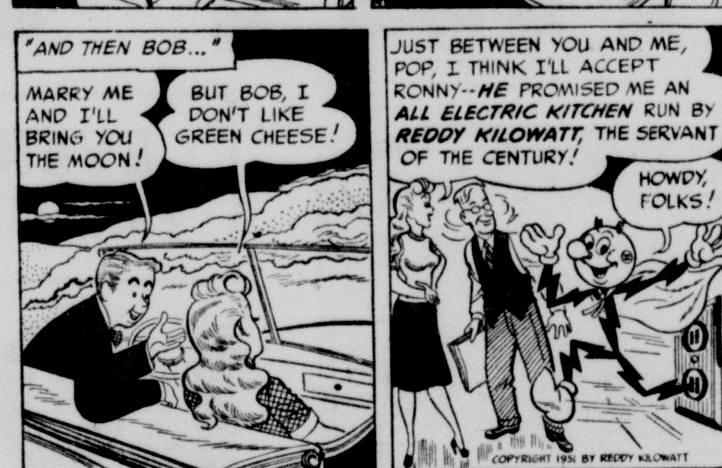

HARRISBURG, March 30—(INS)—An intensive and united campaign by various organizations was called for today by the state highway safety bureau to reduce accidents among children during April.

Director T. E. Transeau said parents must teach their children to cross streets safely and to use bicycles properly if death and injury tolls are to be reduced.

Religious, veterans, service and civic organizations plus the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association will participate in the April campaign, Transeau said.

Grangers Pay Honor To Past State Master

she stated, was to challenge the individual to efforts which they had felt were beyond them.

Mrs. C. Wesley Starr, of Cheyney, Pa., chairman of the State Grange Home Economics Committee, also brought greetings.

Deputy State Master Glenn Patterson, of East Brook Grange, spoke of the honor and recognition that Mr. Fullerton had brought to Lawrence County through the capable administration of his office, and particularly in elevating the ritualistic work to a high level.

County Commissioner Harvey B. Bush was introduced and brought the greetings of the county officials, stating that Mr. Fullerton was an outstanding citizen as well as a capable Grange officer.

Greetings were also brought by Eben O. Reid, executive director of the Greater New Castle Association.

Pomona Masters

Pomona Masters from surrounding counties: Charles M. Fulmer, of Beaver county; Vernon Norris, of Butler county; and Clyde Fulmer, of Mercer county, brought the greetings of their Pomona Granges, and praised Mr. Fullerton in high terms for his outstanding work.

Past Pomona Master W. H. McCullough, spoke of the fact that during Mr. Fullerton's term, the largest class of candidates ever to receive the Sixth Degree of the Grange, in the United States, was initiated here at the State Grange meeting several years ago, when 3,000 were initiated.

Mr. Fullerton, in replying to these many compliments, stated that nothing that had been accomplished during his term, could have been carried out had it not been for the fine cooperation of all of Pennsylvania's Grangers. He stated that he had always felt that the Grange, next to the church, was the greatest organization in the world, which was one reason he had been so happy and willing to work for it.

Another gratification to him was the many friendships with the fine people of the state, which he had been able to make during his term of office.

Praises Services

Continuing the program, Pomona Master Dale Currie, praised Mr. Fullerton for the fact that with all his duties as State Master, he still had time to devote his efforts to keep his splendid farm in top condition, and to keep active in his home church.

Mr. Currie read a letter from Past State Master J. Audley Boak, who with his wife, is spending the winter in Florida, expressing his regret at not being able to attend the dinner, and extending his personal congratulations and those of his wife, to Mr. Fullerton on the occasion. Mrs. Currie, in behalf of the group, presented Mr. Fullerton with a lovely bouquet of roses, to be given to Mrs. Fullerton, who was unable to be present because of illness.

Mr. Currie also expressed his appreciation to the officers of Pomona Grange and the subordinate masters, who so capably assisted with the arrangements of the evening.

Beatty Closes Program

In conclusion, State Master Beatty H. Dimit, spoke of the fact that Mr. Fullerton had brought the state grange to such a high stage of efficiency, and had started so many fine things that he was going to have a difficult time in following and carrying on the work as it should be done.

He recalled the splendid heritage of the grange, of its high ideals, both from a religious and patriotic standpoint.

The grange has great faith in the future, but is opposed, he stated, to certain socialistic trends which have become manifest in this country. The grange has worked on many of the projects which the government is now trying to make mandatory. Agriculture, he stated, now faces a critical period as the result of three recent memorandums issued by The Department of Agriculture.

Grange Opposes Socialization

The first of these, known as No. 1278, would virtually demand the union of the Production and Marketing Association, which sprang into being as a war measure, under the title of The Agricultural Conservation Association, and which has been continued under the P.M.A. title with Soil Conservation. This seeks to group all U. S. Department of Agriculture personnel having county responsibilities in one office. This would bring together the county agents, vocational agriculture supervisors, and other agencies now under state control, under the jurisdiction of the P.M.A.

Memorandum 1279 seeks to establish an advisory board for agriculture research work also under the P.M.A. And Memorandum 1280 authorizes the establishment of a National Agriculture Mobilization Committee, which is broken down into state, and county units, all under P.M.A.

Oppose Other Evils

He spoke of the attitude of the grange against the effort which is being made to increase the load of trucks using the state's highways, recalling a recent incident, where a trucking company hauled a huge steel casting from Johnstown to Buffalo, broke down several bridges and did other damage to highways. The driver was given $5,000 to pay any fines he might have levied on him, and actually paid out $1,020, but was still permitted to carry his heavy load over the highways.

He spoke of another proposal which the grange is opposed to, namely, to work on the directors of county fairs, to back pari-mutual betting on horse racing in the state, promising increased revenue to the fairs.

In closing, he stated, that if the grange goes forward, with the spirit shown by Mr. Fullerton, America shall be saved from many evils now besetting it.

Rainfall Delays Repair Of Streets

Employees of the department of streets worked in North Mercer street and South Mill street yesterday, preparatory to patching holes caused by weather conditions in November and December.

Damaged amiesite was cut out and it is proposed that as soon as blacktop can be procured from a plant, the patching will start.

However, the heavy rainfall of early today stopped the men from continuing the repair work.

First Course Is Launched

Adult Distributive Education Class Is Started Last Night

New Castle's first course in adult distributive education for local merchants began Thursday evening in the Public School Administration Building. Conducted by the New Castle Public Schools as a part of its vocational education program, in cooperation with the Greater New Castle Association, the course in Job Instruction Training for supervisors and managers is being taught by Sidney J. Parnes, Field Supervisor in Adult Distributive Education, Research Bureau for Retail Training, University of Pittsburgh.

Original enrollment for the beginning course was over-subscribed, and as a consequence, stores could send only about half of their actual applicants for the training program. Next fall the public schools plan to offer additional courses in Adult Distributive Education for New Castle retailers and their employees, inasmuch as the turnout for the initial Job Instruction Training Program has been so encouraging to Dr. Frank Burton, Superintendent of Schools.

Job Instruction Training is a course designed to teach supervisors and managers how to do the necessary on-the-job training of employees in a business establishment. It demonstrates how to teach an employee to do a job correctly, quickly, and conscientiously. Participants get practice in actually applying a dependable method of teaching one another in the group.

Members of the present class are: William E. Chalmers, J. C. Penney Co., Inc.; Mary Chill, Neisner Brothers Store; Wayne L. Cookson, J. C. Penney Co., Inc.; John M. Dilley, Neisner Brothers Store; Ben Finkel, Haney Furniture Co.; John O. Huston, Strauss-Hirschberg's; William J. Kinnard, Kirk-Hutton & Co.; Dorothy Parry, Haney Furniture Co.; Robert W. Paxton, J. C. Penney Co., Inc.; Sid Rosenblum, Strauss-Hirschberg's; and Lewis R. Shields, Kirk-Hutton & Co.

Coal Producers Oppose Proposed St. Lawrence Canal

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—Two bituminous producers' association bolstered "a rising tide of opposition" to the proposed St. Lawrence seaway with a detailed protest warning that the project would cripple the railroad and coal industries.

Members of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Producers' Association and the Eastern Bituminous Coal Association passed a strong resolution of opposition yesterday at a joint session in Philadelphia.

The associations, which produce soft coal in central Pennsylvania, Maryland and three counties in West Virginia, joined in petitioning congress to oppose the seaway.

Copies of the anti-seaway resolution were dispatched to the speaker of the house of representatives, the president of the senate, the chairman and members of the house committee on public works, and to all of Pennsylvania's senators and congressmen.

Two Miners Killed, Seven Injured In Gas Explosion

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 30.—(INS)—Explosion of a natural gas pocket was blamed today for the death of two miners and injury to seven others in the Inman shaft of the Glen Alden Coal Company in Hanover Township, near Wilkes-Barre.

Four of the injured were in critical condition at the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. The accident occurred 600 feet below surface shortly before noon yesterday.

Dr. Sam McIlwain, who is over 60, is resting comfortably in Laurel General Hospital. The physician fell at his Waynesboro home. When he regained consciousness, he re-set the shattered tibia bone of his right leg, and forced his dislocated ankle into place before he was moved to the hospital.

STEAL RADIO ANTENNAS
James Blagoli, Friendship street, reported to police, the latter report, that while his car, and another motor vehicle, were parked in front of his home, radio antennas were stolen some time yesterday.

Babson Discusses Russian Dangers As He Sees Them

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1951, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BABSON PARK, Fla., March 30.—Despite the heart-breaking casualties of the ill-fated Korean campaign, I have not been worried about the temporary successes achieved by the Russians. I am confident that the Chinese tide will turn permanently in our favor if President Truman avoids war with China.

Soviet Imperialism

I have been in the forefront of those who for some years have recognized that our country would one day face a Communist danger. I do not, however, believe that this Chinese threat is by any means the greatest danger facing the nation. Korea has aroused us, rudely to be sure. It has exposed in all its ugly nakedness Russian duplicity, and its threat to our future and to the peace of the world. At last, even the most stupid of our politicians can now see that Russian victory could mean world slavery.

We may never succeed entirely in making the world "safe for democracy", but our American system is far superior to Russia's in every respect. The Reds may make us dance to their tune for a time; but, knowing them for what they are, I don't believe the American people will fall for either the intrigue or violence by which the Kremlin strives to reach its goals. We are too smart to be taken in by their harsh and false doctrines. So I do not fear America going Communist or being conquered by Moscow's hordes. If we will invest in the soil and forget paper profits.

Enemies Within the U. S.
What very seriously disturbs me is our extremely smug assurance that the government of the United States is so strong that it can resist every type of inward corrosion. I was a little heartened by the results of the November congressional elections. They indicate that Americans are not so completely sold on the bureaucratic trend in government.

I like to think that, in addition to laying bare the evils of the Soviet system, the Korean campaign has also focused some attention on "the enemy within" our government structure. But, I am not sure even now that we recognize fully this enemy which is eating our substance through loose fiscal policies, make-believe money, unfair tax structures, excessive government spending for non-essential purposes and various inflationary subsidies.

Keeping Our Economic System
As I see it, the final answer to the Russian challenge is a better faith and a fuller way of life. Despite its organization and the huge sums of money spent by its supporters, the Communist party has been unable to gain any substantial foothold in our nation. Why? Because here we have a better faith than Communism, and a fuller way of life than prevails in Moscow or any of her satellite countries.

So long as we can preserve the religious faith which has helped so mightily to make us the great nation that we are, we need not fear either the ideology or the arms of Russia. So long as we keep government controls at a minimum and maintain intact freedom to work, to save, to invest, even to risk, in worthy ventures, we shall be safe from Russian imperialism. I believe we will do this and, hence, I am an optimist.

Why the Growth of the U. S. A.?
Our country has achieved the status of a great power more quickly than any other nation in the whole history of the world. I believe that we have progressed so quickly because, for the most part, we have been true to the ideals of our forefathers. We surely should pay more attention to those ideals now and develop good old-fashioned character and common-sense in our children. Then we will be better able to discern and root out the evils which have been creeping into our government and national life and undermining character and values. Communism, as Russia practices it today, is no revolutionary idea. Actually, it is just plain imperialism based upon a system of slavery which is as old as the human race. We must not long sit quietly by without preaching more convincingly, and practicing more faithfully, the basic principles of our American Revolution. One of these is that every family should—for insurance—have some land to till somewhere.

Veterans Prepare For Annual Banquet

New Catholic War Veterans of Post 741 held their committee meeting of all banquet workers in St. Vitus church hall. Orlando Calazza opened the meeting with prayer.

Carl Cialella, Jr., is the general chairman for the third annual banquet scheduled for Saturday evening, April 14, at the Cathedral. Past commander Edward DeCarbo will be the guest of honor.

Representatives of the Catholic War Veterans auxiliary attended the meeting last night and will assist in the arrangements for the gala affair. National officers in addition to state officers will attend the banquet on April 14. Also invited to attend are members of all the veterans organizations in the county.

Plans are being formed for this event and persons wishing to attend may secure tickets from members of the post and auxiliary.

In addition to an excellent dinner which will be served early in the evening, an excellent speakers program of prominent persons will be presented and an evening of entertainment and dancing will follow.

Mr. Cialella is being assisted in the arrangements by a long list of committees.

Joke Cigarette Causes Big Suit

Woman Asks $23,000 For Eye Injuries

Esther Guanciale of 707 Kirkland street started to smoke a cigarette in the Moose club on the night of November 5, 1949, and it exploded.

For injuries incurred from the explosion of the trick cigarette she now sues the Moose club of Moose No. 51 for $23,000. The suit comes to trial Monday morning, April 2.

In her suit she recites the following: On the night of November 5, 1949, she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paglia in the Moose club. About 11:30 she decided she wanted to play the slot machines and walked into the room where they were kept.

According to her, the machines were so busy she couldn't get up to one to play it until about 12:05 Sunday morning. As she stood at the slot machine she asked for a cigarette and she avers that Donald Fulkerson handed her a cigarette which Mr. Paglia lit. The cigarette was a trick affair and exploded, burning her eye and injuring her about the face, it is charged. She asks $23,000 damages.

HOME FROM HARRISBURG
Judge W. Walter Braham is home from Harrisburg where he sat in the Dauphin county courts. In five days he heard six arguments and wrote five opinions which is par for any court room.

One of the suits he decided was that of the W. J. Dillinger Transfer company of Pittsburgh against Revenue Secretary Otto F. Messner, Highway Secretary Ray F. Smock and State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

The plaintiff company asked the officers he named be ordered to permit them to carry the maximum gross load permitted by state law. The maximum load is 62,000 gross load for a truck and four wheel hitch.

Because the weights in Pennsylvania are set down both by gross load and by axle weights, it is possible only to haul 45,000 gross weight on most vehicles, legally.

Judge Braham decided it was a question for the General Assembly to decide and said the officers named were performing their duty.

TO SERVE AS CHAIRMAN
Judge Braham will serve Saturday morning in Pittsburgh as the chairman of a session of the American Law Institute when the question of new laws concerning decedent estates will be discussed.

REFERENDUM POSSIBLE
Although nothing definite has been done yet in the way of getting signatures, it is possible a referendum on the wet and dry question will be held in Wayne township at the primary election July 24.

Four years ago the question was upon the ballot and the voters decided to keep retail liquor and beer licenses legal in the township. The vote was close, about 37 votes being the difference.

Call Off Highway Universal Sign Test Near Columbus
COLUMBUS, O., March 30.—(INS)—The State Highway Department today called off a United Nations test for a universal system of highway signs.

The department announced that the 24 signs erected along an eight mile stretch of highway south of Columbus had proved a safety hazard. According to the announcement the somewhat controversial test was "dangerous to workers."

A poll of 40 average motorists was to be conducted to determine which of the foreign signs was preferred. As soon as the project was announced, however, Highway Director T. J. Kauer began receiving "violent" protests.

In announcing that the project was called off, the department said the swarms of curious onlookers at the scene of the test had posed a threat to the safety of observers and motorists engaged in judging the signs.

Kauer said the protests received were not great in number "but usually violent." He said the average comment was: "Aren't our signs good enough without the UN butting in."

Await Outcome Of Unusual Eye Operation Effort

NEW YORK, March 30.—(INS)—For two weeks a former British boxer and an American seaman must lie in adjoining beds at Marine Hospital, Staten Island, their eyes swathed in bandages, to find out whether a rare operation has restored the sight of one of the men.

Their ordeal of waiting began Thursday when they were put in the same room in the hospital following the operation in which Eric Joseph, 27, of Kent, England, gave the cornea of his eye to Phillip Pron, 24, of Jersey City, N. J.

Joseph had a sound cornea in an otherwise badly damaged eye when he entered the eye ward of the hospital. There he made friends with Pron, almost totally blind because of damaged corneas in both eyes.

The British seaman agreed to give the cornea of his eye to the American seaman in order that both might see with one eye again.

The operation was performed by five surgeons headed by Dr. Rudolf Aehli, professor of the New York University-Post Graduate Medical School. Many physicians watched the delicate and unusual operation.

Joseph's eye was damaged when he was a prize fighter. Pron lost the sight of one eye and was rendered almost totally blind in the other when he was hit by a heavy steel door aboard ship.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A magician seeking booking at Radio City Music Hall asserted, "I've got a new trick that will panic them." "What is it?" asked Manager Gus Eysell. "I saw a woman in half," announced the magician. "Call that a new trick?" scoffed Eysell. "They've been doing that around here for years." "Oh, yeah?" countered the magician. Lengthwise.

Sneaked out of Budapest is the story of the secret police agent who was ordered by his chief to learn whether a skeleton in the museum really was, as alleged, that of Attila, fifth century chieftain of the savage Huns.

The agent marched off with the skeleton and returned 48 hours later with what was left of it—a few splinters of bone. "It's Attila, all right," averred the agent. "How did you confirm it?" asked the chief. The agent answered proudly. "He confessed."

More Chinaware Believe Stolen From Pottery Found

Two full sets of Castleton chinaware which were reportedly stolen from the Shenango Pottery was found on the Universal-Rundle company's dump at 1:30 p. m. yesterday by a man and woman who were hunting iron for resale, according to Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna.

Search is being made for the man who secreted the chinaware.

The man and woman notified Constable Clyde Altman of Neshannock township, and he, in turn, notified police.

Lieutenant George Rigby and Sergeant Syling recovered the chinaware from the dump and it is now at police headquarters—with other chinaware recovered after the arrest of several other persons, now charged with larceny.

According to Police Chief Hanna the chinaware found is worth $1,000.

The chinaware was partly hidden by old chairs, a mattress, and trees, according to the man and woman who found it.

Yacht Hunted For Three Days Makes Port In Florida

St. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30.—(INS)—The male skipper of the Yacht Tropicair and his eight crew members, who were lost for three days off the coast of Florida, today made port in St. Petersburg.

The 47-foot sailing vessel limped into St. Petersburg yesterday, ending an all-out search by 316 men, five airplanes and three Coast Guard cutters.

The searchers covered an area of 150,000 square miles from the Florida Keys to the Yucatan Channel only to have the yacht and its crew spotted 35 miles from the point of their departure.

The journey began Saturday when Skipper Le Hederman and his jauntily garbed sailors left St. Petersburg with 22 other yachts in the annual Florida to Havana Race.

Leaders Club Of Girl Scouts Has Program

Members of the Leaders' club of the Girl Scouts of the New Castle Area, Inc., heard the importance of physical training very clearly discussed at its monthly meeting. Mrs. Charles Aldridge, former English Girl Guide and officer in His Majesty's army, showed the place of physical training in troop program. Remembering that children sit in school for the greater part of the day, she urged that the children be taken out of doors for at least a part of the troop meeting or have fresh air exercises. Mrs. Aldridge says we must get back to the feeling of real "team work", and this can be accomplished in no way easier than through team games. Instructions and demonstration on good posture for effecting quick relaxation through "quickie exercises" all children enjoy were tried by the group of leaders.

Mrs. D. B. Forsyth, reporting for Mrs. Paul Forcey, council program chairman, discussed the year's biggest program for scouts to be given April 27 at the Cathedral auditorium. She explained the participation for each age level group of scouts. Later in a songfest she included two songs to be sung by all Brownie Scouts at that time. Songs taught were in the following groups: action, spirited, rounds, patriotic, ceremonial and harmony. The leaders enjoyed two closing folk dances.

Officers Elected

Election of officers took place as follows: Mrs. Clarence Shumaker, president; Mrs. Arthur Redman, secretary; Mrs. Myron Boatman, treasurer; and Mrs. T. E. Rainey, corresponding secretary.

The leaders again enjoyed meeting in the YWCA auditorium. Mrs. Esther Aiken, director of the YWCA camp, was a special guest who joined in the songs and dances.

Mrs. Wiley Wallace of New Bedford is the member of the club program responsible for the April meeting. Mrs. Wallace promised a visit by Miss Hanna Richards of the Girl Scout equipment shop in the New Castle store who will show what's new in equipment. The program will also include discussion groups for leader exchange of what girls are finding most enjoyable in troop programs.

State Officials Must Take Chances On Motor License Tags

HARRISBURG, March 30—(INS)—More than 100 state officials had notice today that they will have to take the same chances of being caught for motor violations as other citizens.

Gov. John S. Fine's office has issued a memorandum ending the practice of assigning unlisted plates — impossible for police to track down — to the state-owned cars used by the officials.

Hereafter, the Revenue Department has been ordered to issue unlisted tags only to FBI agents, State Liquor control board agents, State Police and Narcotics agents.

Switchmen's Strike Causes Big Losses

NEW YORK, March 30—(INS)—The nation's two largest railroads, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, said heavy deficits sustained during February were due largely to the strike of switchmen in that month.

The PRR reported a February net loss after charges of $10,052,975, compared with a profit of $5,050,429 a year ago.

The New York Central sustained a February deficit of $10,079,298, as against a loss of $3,341,107 in February, 1950.

EIGHT DIE IN FIRES
BOSTON, March 30—(INS)—Fires today took a total of eight lives in New England.

Six children, including two babies, aged 2 and 3, perished when a kitchen oil burner apparently exploded and flames raced thru their one-story home in South Kingstown, R. I.

A fire in their Forest Hills, Boston home, took the lives of Walter Burke and his wife, Margaret, both about 60.

Ralph Lane, first governor of Virginia, is credited with being the first Englishman to smoke tobacco.

All candidates are to report not later than 1:30 p. m. Samuel L. Dambrocia has also announced other degree dates that will be of interest to all members: first degree in Sharon, April 12; second degree, New Castle, April 8; second degree, Sharon, April 15; and third degree, Sharon, April 22. No Rationing Of Scarce Consumer Goods In Sight

WASHINGTON, March 30. — (INS)—Price Administrator, DiSalle hinted today the government may order rationing of scarce consumer goods next fall but declared such a program is not immediately in sight.

DiSalle made the statement in a speech before a meeting of the government-sponsored sixth conference on the Negro business.

The price stabilizer asserted in response to a question: "We don't anticipate rationing in the foreseeable future. Supplies of most consumer goods are normal."

In addition, the authority to ration has not been delegated to any one individual or office. I would say it would take five or six months to develop a rationing program."

On another point, DiSalle said only a few commodities will be rolled back in price to the pre-Korean level and added the roll-backs will be ordered "where it is warranted."

President Truman said yesterday he hoped there would be a general price rollback to the June 1950 level.

Mr. Bjornstad, of Oslo, Norway, is compared by the best critics with Caruso, having been trained under the greatest masters of the day. He has toured Europe singing in the largest cities. His program is entitled "The Gospel of Christ in Song and Story."

The well process in shoe manufacture—the use of a narrow strip of leather to join the outsole to the upper—was known as early as the 15th century, but no practical machine for this process was developed until 1874.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Avenue, Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children.

And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise decided to do something about it, Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL, my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL is so effective. An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Penalties Fixed For Sabotage

HARRISBURG, March 30.—(INS)—Penalties for sabotage of Pennsylvania's defense program were fixed today under legislation carrying the signature of Gov. John Fine.

The law, co-sponsored by majority leader Charles C. Smith and minority leader Hiram G. Andrews, calls for first degree murder charges where deaths occur as a result of sabotage but allows juries discretionary power whether to order the death penalty.

The law also permits political sub-divisions to set up civil defense funds for emergencies provided mobile defense units would be available for immediate service.

Americans Have Coined Thousands Of Words

By ROBERT N. SCHWARTZ
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, March 30—Someone once said that—the Greeks had a word for it—but Americans have gone the Greeks considerably better by coining literally thousands of words.

For a long time scholars and lexicographers have debated just how extensive the American contribution to the English language has been.

Now the whole panorama of the birth and growth of a mighty nation—its works, its play, its songs and its habits—as evidence in its language has been gathered between the covers of a book.

The book is a massive, two-volume labor entitled "dictionary of Americanisms," which will be published March 30 by the University of Chicago Press.

American Additions
Dr. Mitford M. Mathews, editor of the dictionary, and his staff spent six years compiling the dictionary said to be the first work to deal exclusively with American additions to the language.

Each word or phrase is traced from its first discovered appearance in print down to its most recent usage.

Unlike most dictionaries, it is a book with a sense of humor. The intrepid lexicographer defines the "midway" as follows:
"Used allusively with reference to the University of Chicago. Any place of cheap amusement."

Dr. Mathews and his staff found some of the material through the efforts of a number of volunteer amateur lexicographers—including one man serving a life sentence in prison. Thousands of books, newspapers, magazines and mail order catalogues were culled.

Some 50,000 Words, Phrases
In all there are some 50,000 words and phrases—all considered Americanisms either in origin or derivation—in the 2,000-page work. They range from "A," used by Plymouth colonists and 200 years later by Hawthorne in the "Scarlet Letter" to denote adultery, to "Zwieback," double-baked bread.

Two basic types of words and expressions are included:
First are those uniquely American. They include animals and plants found only in America as hickory, turkey, raccoon. They include, too, American inventions—linotype, automobile—and words coined in the U. S., such as gorilla, Moron, appendicitis, congressional, rocking chair and hydrant.

Then there are the vast reservoirs of words borrowed from other tongues and English words buffed and refined to new meanings by usage in the United States.

Baseball, believe it or not, comes from England where they play cricket. Buffalo, refrigerator, ranger, amendment, faculty and addition were gleaned from English but their meanings have been changed.

However, such phrases as ax to grind, pull up stakes, eat crow, keep the ball rolling, play ball, by the great hornspoons, and his name is mud, are American innovations, according to Dr. Mathews. The dictionary, which sells for $50, includes also the fascinating history of a host of slang terms, including jazz, hoosegow, baloney, hobo, whoopee, lolapalooza, bozo, and pep.

What was the first American word? Well, no one seems to know for certain, but Dr. Mathews' candidate is turkey—the bird not the theatrical stinkeroo (an Americanism, by the way).

It came from the very first settlers and explorers who spotted the purely American bird and mistook it for a turkey fowl. The colonist did a yeoman job of enriching the language. Some of their contributions (and year of first printed record) are:

Raccoon (1608); Tomahawk (1612); Wigwam (1628); papoose, Squaw (1634); sorority (1645); grocery (1659); frontier (1671); sleigh (1696); and capitol (1699).

Army Induction Officers Confronted With Real Problem

FORT CUSTER, Mich., March 30—(INS)—Army induction officers at Fort Custer, Mich., are completely baffled today in an attempt to place 23-year-old Joe Hartman in an occupation suiting his abilities.

Joe's civilian status was apprentice wild animal trainer and assistant to Clyde Beatty.

In an attempt to be helpful, Joe volunteered:
"If the army can't use a wild animal trainer, I'm also a sword swallower and fire eater."

DIES OF SELF-INFLICTED WOUND

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 30—(INS)—A 31-year-old combat veteran of World War II died Thursday in Bellefonte hospital several hours after he was found on the porch of his home with a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head.

Don't Marry With Idea Of Reforming Your Life Partner

ITHACA, N. Y., March 30 (INS)

—"Don't go into marriage with the idea of reforming your partner," Prof. Edward V. Pope of Cornell told a farm and home week audience at Cornell Thursday.

He emphasized that marriage does not automatically change a person, and that it's useless for two people to think that undesirable characteristics will disappear after the wedding ceremony.

Prof. Pope said:
"If you can't accept your future husband or wife as the person he or she actually is before marriage, you won't accept him after marriage either."

Leaders Have YWCA Seminar

Orientation Stressed
At Day-Long Sessions

An orientation seminar at the YWCA on Wednesday, assembled together 35 volunteer leaders, for the purpose of training and becoming acquainted with the community needs. "A Better World Begins with You" was the theme. The seminar started at 10:30 a.m. with a game, under the direction of Mrs. R. G. Eakin, adult program director. After becoming acquainted the program started and talks about the YW were given by Mrs. Roy A. Long, "YW in the World"; Mrs. J. W. Moorehead, "YW in the United States"; and Mrs. G. Sutton Smith, "YW in New Castle." Mrs. W. J. Moorehead discussed basic standards and this was followed by the worship service by Mrs. Charles Campbell.

Mrs. James W. Moorehead, YW president, presided during the morning session and Miss Dorothy Ray was the registrar. Mrs. Charles Foster was the timekeeper. At 12 o'clock a most delicious luncheon was served in the Green room of the YWCA, with hostesses being Mrs. Edward Harrison and Mrs. Walter Perch. At 1 o'clock the seminar resumed, with Mrs. W. J. Caldwell as the leader, with Margueta Fox accompanying.

Afternoon Session
During the business at hand it was revealed that more and more social agencies plan for the training and orientation of the volunteer leaders. Leaders should be well acquainted with what the community needs, with interagency structure, philosophy and ideals of the particular agency where they carry responsibility.

Each committee should be given a job description in order to clarify what is expected of that committee. "Our Own YWCA" was next featured on the program. The YW directors, Mrs. Esther Eakin, Miss Shirley Webber and Miss Margueta Fox, arranged a large cardboard circle and then placed cardboard segments together in circle-form.

A two-minute talk was given then by a chairman as she held a segment, designating her committee. The whole YWCA was formed by these segments when the talks were completed.

These talks on administrative committees were given by Mrs. John Elliott, finance; Mrs. W. Russell Allen, house; Mrs. James Gillespie, membership; Mrs. Paul F. Butz, personnel; Mrs. Raymond Williams, management; Mrs. Riley Bollard, nominating committee.

Chairmen Speak
The following chairmen spoke on various types of program and services: Mrs. Earl Smith, teen-age; Mrs. Esther Eakin, adult program and camp; Mrs. Williams, public affairs; Mrs. Ethel Rentz, YWCA religious education; Mrs. Ralph Cooper, players; Miss Dorothy Stewart, classes, trustees and residence; Mrs. Martha Smith, travelers aid; and Shirley Webber, staff.

Miss Dorothy Stewart, executive secretary, spoke on "A Responsible Committee." She said, "A committee in any social agency should represent experience, insight, geographic distribution, age and a commitment to the purpose of the agency and a skill or knowledge of the subject at hand."

New committee members attending included Mrs. Forrest Farrington, teen-age; Mrs. Delbert Fleicher and Mrs. Charles Lumley, house; and Mrs. Brant Sankey, religious education.

The next big event for adults in the YW will be the celebration of National YWCA Week the last week in April. "It's Your World—Join It Through the YWCA," is the theme.

Penn Power Club To Meet Tonight

Ma Than E, a member of the Burmese delegation to the United Nations secretariat will arrive in New Castle late this afternoon for a meeting of the Penn Power club tonight in the Cathedral.

She will address the club tonight and members from Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties and their wives are expected to attend. Ma Than E is a graduate of the University of Rangoon and the University of London, has been a teacher and lecturer in many nations and presently is in charge of radio broadcasts to the Far East for the United Nations.

She will be met this afternoon at the Vienna airport and brought to New Castle.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER

MOTH AND RUST

The Bible talks about moth and rust and thieves. They are all pretty bad. Rats and mice and roaches are too.

When you get your winter overcoat and find it full of moth holes, you feel pretty punk.

When you don't find it, you feel punker.

Prevention is much better than the cure always.

Cleanliness in public eating places is a good means of preventing disease.

People don't eat off the floor, but dirt on the floor usually points to dirt on the dishes too.

The health inspector counts the germs on the glasses at the bar and if there are too many, he gets out his spanking machine.

Inspections and blood tests and competition and private initiative and pride and self respect and profits and good cooks and pretty faces and some other things help the restaurant business a little.

Discontinue Sale Of Postal Notes

Postal notes will go out of use on March 31, it was announced here today by Postmaster William R. Hanna.

In place of the postal notes, money orders will be available for the use of the public until July 1, of this year, when a new money order system will be inaugurated by the Post Office Department.

Postmaster Hanna stated that postal notes, sold prior to Saturday, will be honored by the Post Office Department, stating that the contemplated change is nationwide in scope.

Folks Of Fame

Fort Monroe, Va., was the place of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's birth, which occurred on March 2, 1885. After intensive army training, he was commissioned lieutenant in 1917, and has advanced through the ranks to lieutenant general in 1945. He has served as technical adviser to the governor general of the Philippines before that territory became a republic.

and accompanied Gen. George C. Marshall to Brazil. He was commander of various divisions of the army and air force in European countries in World War II. He was deputy army chief of staff to the United States administration from 1949 until he was sent to Korea as commander of the gallant Eighth Army.

May McAvoy is another darling of the screen's silent days. She was born in New York City in 1901, and studied to be a teacher. Her film career began as an extra. She appeared in "Sentimental Tommy," "Lady Windermere's Fan," "Ben Hur," "Jazz Singer," "Reno Divorce," "Stolen Kisses," "The Lion and the Mouse," "Terror," "No Defence," etc. She was a tiny thing, only four feet 11 inches high and weighed 98 pounds.

EGG DEVICE
NEW YORK—(INS)—Most people like their fried eggs with unbroken yolks. Well, there's a new gadget that'll turn out perfect sunny-side-ups. Or if you prefer the soft boiled kind, this item will prevent shell fragments from getting into your eggs. It's a stainless steel device with a blade that neatly cuts off the upper half of the eggshell. Just place it over the egg, press the handle and off comes the top—slick as a whistle.

Unique Program At Rose Avenue

Symposium Conducted
By Local Ministers

Members of the Rose Avenue Parent-Teachers Association and guests witnessed an outstanding program when they assembled in the school's auditorium. President, Mrs. Albert Jones, presided at the business meeting, with reports by the secretary and treasurer presented. Roll call was taken with Miss Betty Hovis and Miss Armstrong winning the banners for the month.

A letter from Mrs. Kenyon Nicholl president of the Southwest District P. T. A. was read by Mrs. McKee, telling of the Southwest District Conference which will be held on April 21 at the Cathedral in New Castle. Reservations for the luncheon for this meeting are to be made with Mrs. Hubert White, New Castle council treasurer. However, anyone may attend by paying the twenty-five cents registration fees at 9 a. m. on the day of the conference. It was decided to send twenty delegates to the conference and luncheon from the Rose Avenue unit.

Board As Guests
At the close of the business session, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Samuel Rashid, who introduced and welcomed the many guests including Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools, William Wallace, principal at Thaddeus Stevens, Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner, Mr. Cooper, Mrs. Hyde and Mrs. Hensley, members of the school board; Rev. James Rainey, and a number of members of the Oak Street, West Side and the Ellwood City P. T. A.

Delbert Fletcher entertained the group by singing "The Lord's Prayer," and "The Journey's End," accompanied by Mrs. Arlene Jordan at the piano.

The main portion of the program was a symposium composed of Dr. Iwan Gruen, rabbi of the Temple Israel and Rev. Fr. Ralph

E. Hovencamp, with Samuel Rashid as moderator. Dr. Robert Galbreath was unable to participate due to illness. The speakers used as their subject "Moral and Spiritual Guidance of Our Children." Rabbi Gruen touched upon the subject of the moral guidance, and stated that could a grandfather of the present day father sit in upon a conversation between his grandson and great grandson he would be thoroughly shocked. For in making our children's happiness our primary goal, our children have lost all sense of obedience, responsibility and respect toward their parents. In allowing them to grow up without these factors in their lives our children are becoming morally and spiritually crippled.

Stress Cooperation

In conclusion, Rabbi Gruen stated that "life is not complete freedom but cooperation with others." Mr. Rashid then introduced Fr. Hovencamp who gave his views on the spiritual phase of our children's training. He stated that we people here in American have an abiding faith in education but sometimes education backfires. We are failing to include in our children's education the knowledge on one supreme being to which they can turn when all else has failed them. He asked "for what city are we educating our children to be good citizens... a city based on Stalin's principals... a godless democracy, or a heaven on earth?"

A highly interesting question period followed in which Fr. Hovencamp and Rabbi Gruen answered and elaborated upon the queries of the audience. At the close of the program, delicious refreshments were served from the hostess' table which was centered with spring flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Prosser were in charge, and Mrs. Sylvester, Mrs. Durgham, Mrs. DeGennaro, Mrs. Panella, Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. Lytle, Mrs. McCann, Mrs. Weller, Mrs. Pivessan, and Miss Armstrong.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CENSORSHIP OR EDUCATION

Schools And Family Life

When 14-year-old Joanie Wright came home and told her folks that they were starting a course called "Family Living" both parents were disturbed. Her dad was angry. "More of that sex stuff," he said. "I'll bet I won't have it," Mrs. Wright was concerned about something else. "Doesn't the school think we are doing a good job?" she asked. "I don't see why they feel they can tell you how to live in the family."

More and more schools today are giving courses on family relations, personal living and mental hygiene. Should we parents take it as did the Wrights?

For my money, it's a very good trend and in no sense a criticism of us. It's a lot more difficult now to do a good job as a mother or father than it used to be. There are so many more decisions to face, so many different standards of what is right and wrong. And a sound approach in courses in school will help our children understand us and themselves. Youngsters need to look at their families in a way that is hard if discussions are limited to the bosom of the family.

And as for the sex angle, it has merely been another phrase for "sex education." But far less likely to be true than it once was. As parents, we should surely be consulted about the kinds of things that the school hopes to help our children understand about the family. In all sorts of ways, we can profit from the cooperation of such courses.

ROTC Officers Will Be Ordered Into Armed Service

Approximately 170 ROTC officers to be graduated from Pitt, Duquesne, Carnegie Tech and Washington & Jefferson college in June will be ordered to active military service in July, August and September, district army headquarters announced today.

They will be part of 10,000 officers graduated from the nation's colleges and universities and commissioned in the Organized Reserve Corps which the army plans to call into service at the end of the 1950-51 academic year.

According to present plans, the army will order the newly-commissioned officers to their basic branch service school for approximately 90 days upon entering active service before assigning them to units.

Those who have not executed an ROTC deferment agreement and who have more than two years' prior service will not be ordered to active duty but may volunteer.

DUTIES OF GROOM'S PARENTS

"At a church wedding which is taking place in the home town of the bride, what are the duties of the groom's parents?"

Answer: They should entertain the bride's family soon after the announcement of the engagement... give the bride a wedding present, pay for no part of the wedding expenses. The groom, of course, has his financial duties. His mother, if she is a close friend of the bride's mother, might offer her services to the latter; but technically his parents have no duties at the wedding other than those of guests.

Question: Please give me some information on bridal attendants' gifts—what should they be and when should they be presented?

Answer: The bridesmaids and the maid-of-honor receive gifts from the bride at a luncheon or tea some time before the wedding. If the family is wealthy, these may be gifts of jewelry—wrist watches, expensive clips, pins or gold compacts. Sometime (though not often) these gifts are accessories for the bridesmaids' wedding ensembles, such as hats, gloves, etc. A bride of moderate means may choose costume jewelry. All gifts should be of equal value.

Question: Are wedding gifts

usually sent to a divorcee who remarries?

Answer: Very close friends send presents to the widow or divorcee who remarries, but general acquaintances usually do not, unless they especially wish to do so. There is no obligation to do so at the second marriage, unless there is a reception to which you are invited.

The first editor of a women's equal rights magazine was Amelia Bloomer, of "The Lily," in the 1840s.

Atomic Peanuts Providing Much New Information

By JACK McLAUGHLIN

(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

RALEIGH, N. C., March 30.—Atomic peanuts—goobers that have gone through the equivalent of the Hiroshima atom bombing—may supply scientists with precious information about the effects of radiation on the human body.

The study of "hot" peanuts is an Atomic Energy Commission project being carried on at North Carolina State college under the direction of Dr. W. C. Gregory.

Two years ago several bushels of peanuts were taken to the Oak Ridge atom bomb plant and submitted to intense irradiation. The peanuts then became "radiation victims" much like hundreds of Japanese who were burned in World War II atomic explosions.

New Characteristics
The effect of the radiation was to scramble the peanuts' genetic structure and produce a whole new set of hereditary characteristics. Since heredity operates the same way in plants as it does in human beings, a study of the atomic peanuts may closely parallel the study of human atom blast victims.

However, the peanuts had the advantage of being rigidly controlled and studied under laboratory conditions that cannot be duplicated in the case of human beings.

Five acres of the radiated peanuts were planted and the first generation produced some startling results.

Some Soon Died
Many of the peanut plants were scrawny and underdeveloped and soon died. Others looked entirely normal except for one thing—no peanuts. Still others turned up with white or misshapen leaves and in an assortment of sizes and shapes. The second generation, planted last year, produced greater refinements of the first generation and showed some definite hereditary traits. The third generation is to be planted this spring.

Dr. Gregory is hoping that some of the new breeds of plants will prove to be resistant to leaf spot, a disease that infects only peanuts. There is also the possibility that an atomic peanut may be crossed with a normal goober to produce a plant giving a greater peanut yield.

Delay Action On Governor Fine's Tax Program

HARRISBURG, March 30.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine's $163,000,000 tax program was stalled temporarily today.

Republican leaders in the House will try next week to shove a proposed one-half of one per cent income tax past a roadblock of Democratic opposition.

While GOP House members have indicated solid backing of the administration's revenue-raising plans, individual members of both parties in the Senate have reported themselves opposed to the income levy.

An attempt to squeeze the tax proposals through first reading in the House fizzled yesterday when Rep. James E. Lovett (D) Westmoreland, insisted on a delay. "I want the general public to have an opportunity to know what the tax bills are all about," he said.

E. Merl Young Gives Statement Of His Finances

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(INS)—Senate influence probes today released a financial statement in which E. Merl Young, husband of a White House stenographer and a key figure in the RFC hearings, listed his debts as $38,000 above his assets.

Young, who has been accused by the Fulbright subcommittee of being part of an "influence ring" with a White House tie-in, stated that his assets as of Thursday were $111,491.66 and his liabilities were $149,792.66.

Included in the list of debts was the $8,540 Joseph Rosenbaum, Washington attorney, also accused of influence peddling, paid for a mink coat Young bought for Mrs. Young.

The statement was received after the subcommittee reminded Young that he promised to provide it early in February. It strengthened Young's close association with Rosenbaum.

Plan New Shelter House At Gaston

Councilman Joseph F. Medure today stated that employees of his Parks Bureau will erect a new shelter house at Gaston Park as soon as weather permits.

He said so many people use Gaston Park for outings, employees have developed additional ground for such affairs, and a shelter house is needed.

New York state is in fourth place nationally in the production of iron ore, and it is the leading producer of titanium.

Uses Vitamin B-1 As Peach Grower

DUNCAN, S. C.—(INS)—A transplanted Californian is busy today proving that the nation's top peach-producing state can double its orchard business through use of synthetic hormones.

Louis L. Joo uses Vitamin B-1 to strengthen the root systems of trees and plants in South Carolina's Piedmont area.

"Many of the possibilities for improved orchard growth have been overlooked in South Carolina," according to Joo, even though the Palmetto State leads all others in peach growing.

Joo said this situation impressed him when he toured the section two years ago. He then left his home at San Marcos, Calif., to spread the gospel of Vitamin treatment for South Carolina orchards.

Joo bought a 117-acre tract near Duncan to prove his theories. He said:

"Farmers should learn that trees react to vitamins much as do human beings. They, after all, are living breathing things, and they require plenty of attention if they are to flourish."

Memphis Credited With Three Firsts

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(INS)—The vice president of the Mid South Title company credited three "firsts" to Memphis today.

In a speech before members of the local Exchange club, George M. Houston said that the first industry in the United States was created in Memphis in 1541 when DeSoto established a shipyard to build barges to cross the Mississippi river.

Later, according to Houston, 42-year-old native of Woodbury, Tenn., Memphis became the first municipality west of the Alleghenies to have a city planning program.

He said that the present downtown streets in Memphis do not vary more than one inch from the original plan of 1825.

The title attorney announced that Memphis also was the first city to advertise on a national scale. This was in 1826, he said, when Judge John Overton advertised Memphis lots for sale in papers at Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, New Orleans, Natchez, Nashville and Little Rock.

Houston is a keen student of real estate and said his statements are backed by Americana Encyclopedia.

New Tokyo Is Emerging From Bomb Devastation

By FRANK CONNIF
(U.S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 30.—American veterans who remember the flattened, groggy Tokyo of five years ago would be astonished to view the bustling giant which has emerged from the ruins of bomb-borne devastation.

Tokyo today vibrates to the boom of reconstruction as its residents shake off the nation's crushing defeat and seek to re-establish their city on a going basis. There is evident none of the apathy which discourages Americans who visit similarly stricken cities in the old war belts of Europe.

Someone just in from Korea is struck by the vitality pulsing through the Japanese capital. The lively pace of daily life hits you during your first stroll through downtown streets. People who have been here throughout the occupation say the recovery is nothing short of miraculous.

Streets Are Jammed
The streets are jammed and shop windows bulge with a good supply of consumer goods. Shiny new cars speckle the tides of traffic rolling down the avenues.

Crowds queue up in safety islands for seats in the street cars. Indeed, the clang and zoom of Tokyo is the best talisman of the energy animating Japan today. Instead of brooding about their lost war, they have accepted the challenges of defeat and are rapidly returning their city to normal.

General MacArthur's administration policy, which recognized Japan's cultural and political peculiarities, spurred the process of reconstruction. With the militarists shorn of prestige, the progressive elements have come to the fore and Japan seems geared for a finer and more enlightened future.

"Subway" Rush

A New York expatriate like myself felt right at home during the first encounter with Tokyo's subway rush. More exactly, it is an "elevated" which rings the city and gets us masses where we are going. You get shoved and jolted just like back in the old home town but the guards wheeze in sing-song accents instead of the guttural blasts of the Times Square sardine packers.

If sexy and exotic nightlife is any barometer of a city's prosperity, then Tokyo is already home free and over the hump of the war's shattering slap. Americans visiting a town like this naturally gravitate toward the torrid spots and I have been no exception. At one night spot, I found a Japanese band playing bebop, which may indicate a deterioration of native culture, at that. At another, girl dancers peeled themselves with a thoroughness certain to delight the Minsky brothers in their most thorough moments.

Walking through the Shimbashi district is like touring New York's 52nd street when it was 52nd street. The din of swing bands smites you from every open doorway. The noise of revelry floats on the air and you are aware that at least one section of Tokyo is feeling no pain.

Salvatore Solazzo, held as the arch fixer in New York's basketball scandal, may be slain by an enraged underworld if he is permitted to leave prison.

SHREDDERS

NEW YORK—(INS)—In selecting a shredder or grater for your kitchen, look for one that's sturdy and firm. Usually shredders and graters are made of tin-plated steel. Cutters are formed by drilled or punched holes. The drilled holes are better for shredding because they have smooth edges that cut food into bits of definite and uniform shape. Punched holes are ragged and they tear the food.

Judy Holliday, Jose Ferrer Win

the academy award show in New York. Jose's remarks of gratitude were broadcast from the big city to the stage of Hollywood's Pantages theater. Helen Hayes, in Hollywood for her first movie in years, accepted the award for Ferrer.

Ferrer, referring to his recent subpoena by the house un-American activities committee, told his listeners by phone from New York. "I consider this more than a vote of confidence in my acting ability."

Miss Swanson, who had made a remarkable comeback in the film "Sunset Boulevard," said she had a hunch all along that Judy would get it. Judy, who also was at the party in a Manhattan night-club, embraced Ferrer but later she wept and said she couldn't make a statement because "anything I'd have tried to say would have been incoherent."

Best Supporting Actress

Josephine Hull, who got an Oscar for the best supporting actress as the bewildered auntie in "Harvey," was present as was suave George Sanders to garner the honor for his portrayal of the cynical and worldly-wise drama critic of "All About Eve."

A star-studded audience of 2800 saw the 90-minute show inside the theater at $12 per seat. Thousands of fans braved the threat of rain outside the theater to applaud the stars as they arrived and departed. Because of the confining 90 minutes allotted for the broadcast, long-winded speeches of yesterday were nipped in the bud. Fred Astaire, master of ceremonies of the 23rd annual award, cut that sort of thing short and the whole show went off as a one-two-three affair.

Best Foreign Picture—Dietrich, currently emoting in a Hollywood movie after years in Europe, announced "The Walls of Malapaga," starring Jean Gabin, the best foreign picture of 1950.

Special awards went to George Murphy and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer bigwig Louis B. Mayer. The ultra-special Irving Thalberg award went to Darryl F. Zanuck, head of 20th Century-Fox studio. Oscar-winning best song was "Mona Lisa" from the modest Alan Ladd flicker, "Captain Carey, U. S. A." The best musical comedy score Oscar went to "Annie Get Your Gun" and the best musical score for a drama went to "Sunset Boulevard."

Other awards included: best achievement in special effects, "Destination Moon"; best achievement in film editing, "King Solomon's Mines," edited by Ralph Winters and Conrad Nervig; for distinctive achievement in documentary production (shorts), "Why Korea?" (feature) "The Titan," best achievement in costume design (black and white), "All About Eve" (color), "Samson and Delilah"; best achievement in art direction (black and white), "Sunset Boulevard" (color), "Samson and Delilah."

For best motion picture story: "Panic in the Streets," by Edna and Edward Anhalt; best screen play, "All About Eve"; Joseph L. Mankiewicz; best story and screen play, "Sunset Boulevard," Charles Brackett, Billy Wilder and D. M. Marshman, Jr.; best achievement in directing, Joseph L. Mankiewicz, "All About Eve."

O'Dwyer Will Fly Back To Mexico

NEW YORK, March 30.—(INS)—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer, looking fit after a day in the hospital undergoing a checkup, is expected to fly to Mexico City today in President Miguel Aleman's personal plane.

The president sent his plane in a gesture of friendship to the ambassador to Mexico who appeared before three crime investigating groups in New York.

Dr. Edward M. Bernecker, O'Dwyer's physician, said the tests will have to be correlated and studied before any announcement can be made regarding his health.

Will Be Illegal To Cross Tracks Ahead Of Train

ALBANY, N. Y., March 30.—(INS)—It has always been dangerous for a motorist to dash across railroad tracks ahead of an approaching train. Now it's going to be illegal too in New York state.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey signed a bill making it unlawful to drive through grade crossings when the gates are lowered or when a flagman's red signal has been hoisted. Those who get across can be arrested. Those who don't will find the problem academic.

Canadian Pilot Shoots Down Red Plane In Battle

(BULLETIN)

FIFTH AIR FORCE HEAD-QUARTERS IN KOREA, March 31.—(Saturday)—(INS)—A Canadian "exchange" pilot flying with the U. S. Fourth Fighter Interceptor wing shot down a Communist jet plane Friday in the Korean war's strongest display of enemy air power.

Flight Lieut. Omer J. Levesque of Montreal, a World War Two ace in the European theater, knocked out the Communist fighter during a mass dog fight three miles in the air.

Two other Russian-type MIG-15's were badly damaged in the battle which followed an attempt by the Red aircraft to intercept a B-29 strike on Yalu river bridges.

Former Mother-In-Law Of Remington Taken Into Custody By U.S.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(INS)—Mrs. Elizabeth Moos, the former mother-in-law of convicted perjurer William Remington, was arrested on her arrival today at Idlewild international airport as an alleged unregistered foreign agent.

She was arrested as she alighted from an Air France plane. Her ex-son-in-law, Remington, former Commerce department economist, is now free in $7,000 bail pending appeal of his perjury conviction. He was found guilty last month of false testimony before a federal grand jury in denying he was ever a member of the communist party.

Mrs. Moos, 61, was indicted as an unregistered foreign agent by a Washington grand jury last February 9. At that time the Justice department said she had left the U. S. "to attend a communist peace conference in Warsaw, Poland." She is a resident of Croton-on-Hudson, New York.

City League To Open Season May 6 With 10 Teams, Closes August 4

Three County Teams In Loop

Association Umpires To Arbitrate Games

City Baseball loop will be composed of 10 teams this season, three new teams being included in the cast; namely, Hillsville, Bessemer, and Wampum. The latter three teams were in the Lawrence County circuit in 1950, which will not operate this season. All of the teams presented forfeits and were awarded franchises by President Frank Coen, former minor league pitcher. The season will open May 6 and close August 4. The teams which will compose the loop follows:

Lawrence Indies, 1950 City circuit pennant winner; Wampum, 1950 County loop flag winner; Universal-Rundle, Croton, Fees, DeCarbo, West Pittsburg, Bessemer, Elliott, and Hillsville.

Each Plays 36 Games
Universal-Rundle was runner-up for the City pennant last season, and Bessemer, occupied a similar berth in the County loop.

As yet, no commissioner has been picked for the City League. Three names have been presented; namely, Harry Reith, Fred Marcella, and Dom Costello. Joe Hartman, ex-International leaguer was commissioner last year, but he is now residing in Greenville.

The league is agreed to use the Lawrence County Umpires Association. The season will open May 6, and end August 4. Each team will play 36 games, and at the end of the season the Shaughnessy system will prevail. The first four teams will be included in the play-off.

Shenango Beaglers Convene Saturday

West Penn meeting will be discussed by Beaglers when the Shenango Valley Beagle club meets at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the clubhouse in Volant vicinity. Also to be discussed will be plans for a joint meeting with the Sharpville club concerning the coming Pennsylvania Federation trial. All members are urged by Secretary John Greer to be present.

Volant Ball Team Will Meet Tonight

Volant baseball team of the north County League will hold a meeting tonight at the Volant school at 8 o'clock. It is announced by Ivan Young.

All of last year's players and any others wishing to play for Volant during the coming season should plan to attend the meeting.

Bucceroni has lost only once in 31 fights.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JACK GARDNER, 23-year-old British heavyweight, who wears a Clark Gable moustache, won the European heavyweight championship when he defeated Joe Weiden of Australia in a 15-round fight at London. Gardner had an eight pounds "pull" on the Australian, balancing the scales at 207. Britain captured another crown when Don Cockell won the vacant light-heavyweight title by stopping Francis Albert Yvel of France in the fifth round, the referee stopping the fight because the Frenchman was undergoing punishment. . . . Bucky O'Connor has taken over the basketball coaching reins at Iowa U. . . . Dave Broffman has resigned as basketball coach at Tarentum high school. He will operate a summer camp at Blairstown, N. J. In his second season last year Broffman piloted Tarentum to its first WPIAL Section 2 championship in 25 years. . . . There is another welterweight boxer named Moran. He is Andy of Mexico City, 147, who outpointed Joe Barnum, Chicago, at San Antonio. The local Moran, Frankie, is preparing for distant fights. . . . ABC tournament will open in St. Paul April 7 and run through June 13. . . . Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians is quoted at Los Angeles as saying: "When I first signed as manager, I did so because I thought it was a good team. Now, after a month of spring training, I must admit it's even better than I thought."

THE SPORTING NEWS in commenting on an alleged outburst of Ted Williams, Red Sox, says Williams was quoted by a news wire association as saying "I'm sick and tired of these exhibition games. We don't need this much to get in shape. I spent the winter fishing off the Florida Keys. My left elbow is good. It needed rest and that's what I did for it. I think the thing for me to do would be to play one game and rest the next." An editorial in the Sporting News advises Williams "the thing for him to do would be to keep his mouth shut and play whenever his manager tells him to play. Certainly no one—perhaps not even Williams himself—is more concerned about keeping that left arm in good shape, than are the top executives of the Red Sox. . . . Williams is not the only star who thinks the club-owners go too far in their effort to make exhibition games pay training expenses. But he is the only one of any magnitude who can be quoted about the situation. . . . If he can play on a half-time basis, then why can't every other athlete in the game? . . . Williams probably never will admit it, but he does owe something to the game which has rewarded his skill so generously. If every headliner of the past had treated press and public with the contempt which Ted often displays, there would have been no baseball in which the man could earn his munificent salary, reported to be $125,000."

INDICATIONS ARE THAT Julius is the "Real McCoy", insofar as Farrell high basketballers are concerned. . . . Swoyersville is within stone throwing distance of John Gibbons' hometown, Luzerne. Allentown conked Swoyersville in the eastern floor play-off. . . . Herman Steinbrink, "Greenie" Mangino, et. al. are building a hunting camp at Brookston. . . . Bill Weitz is one of those handling pasteboards for the LCSA banquet, April 12, likewise the Harbor sports shop. Henry Rodgers, one of the mainstays in the LCSA, has an important role in making the banquet a success. . . . Discovered! A barber shop where no patrons are shaved. The proprietor reports that "shaves are so few and far between, shaves were abandoned." . . . Henry Navarra hopes to take in a number of Indian ball games this summer at Cleveland. Groundhogs are traveling nowadays, and no doubt turtles have emerged from their winter sleep. . . . Joe Garagiola, Cardinal catcher, was telling of the day he walked into the club's office to sign with Branch Rickey for a $500 bonus. "My dad owed $500 on his house and that's all I wanted," Joe said. "I was only 15 at the time and Mr. Rickey talked and talked and talked. Said it was a lot of money for a boy so young. But he finally gave it to me. I ran all the way to the brickyard where my dad worked to show him the check. He started to cry and so did I. I've read of Dick Wakefield's $52,000 bonus and Paul Pettit's $100,000, but neither of those fellows got the kick that I received from those 500 bucks."

Castle Hills To Open Saturday

Castle Hills golf course will open the 1951 season Saturday it was announced today by Manager Larry Gramling. All 18 holes will be open for play. All greens have been cut. The Fairways are in fine shape for this time of year. Indications point to a heavy play at the popular Castle Hills course this summer.

Bee Bee Wright Loses Decision

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—(INS)—The comeback try of Bee Bee Wright, 155, was spoiled at the Philadelphia met last night when the Harrisburg batter was unanimously decided by Terry Moore, 160, Baltimore. Wright, who earlier decisioned Moore, blamed his loss on poor timing and a two and one-half year layoff. He was dropped for an automatic 8-count in the third. The 8-rounder drew $3,660.50.

Canadiens Hand Wings Shutout

Maurice Richard Is Shining Light

(By International News Service)
Maurice (Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens is making a one-man show of the Stanley cup semi-final playoff series between Les Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings.

Richard, who scored the winning goal Tuesday night in Montreal's thrilling 3 to 2 victory over Detroit after four overtime periods, scored the winning and only goal in the third "sudden death" overtime period at Detroit last night.

Assists by Billy Reay and Jim McPherson on the play helped make the 1 to 0 triumph possible. Montreal not only holds a 2 to 0 lead in the best of seven game series but also will have the advantage of playing on home ice in the next two games, tomorrow and Tuesday.

The other semi-final series, between Boston and Toronto, in which the Bostonians hold a 1 to 0 lead, will be resumed at Toronto tomorrow night.

Barons Await Hockey Playoff

(By International News Service)
The Cleveland Barons will play a series of exhibition games in three states next week in a tune-up for their forthcoming final playoff series for the American Hockey League's Calder cup.

While the Barons are awaiting the outcome of the semi-final series between Hershey and Pittsburgh, they will play at Johnston, Pa., Sunday; at Troy, O., Tuesday; and Huntington, W. Va., Wednesday.

The winner of the Hershey-Pittsburgh best-of-five series which begin tomorrow at Hershey will face Cleveland in the finals for the league cup. Hershey plays host to Pittsburgh for the first two games while the last three are scheduled in the Hornets' home rink.

Pittsburgh eliminated Springfield in three straight and Hershey knocked out the Indianapolis Caps in the same number of games. The Cleveland Barons whipped the Buffalo Bisons in four straight.

Pitt Will Utilize Freshmen On Varsity
PITTSBURGH, March 30.—(INS)—The University of Pittsburgh announced today it will use freshmen in varsity competition beginning September 1.

The Athletic Committee of the university voted to follow the Western Conference policy in the present rule for one year.

Indians Sign Sensational Infield Star Joe Frisina

The New Castle Indians yesterday by virtue of an auto trip to Corry, Pa., assured themselves of a sensational young infielder for the 1951 Mid-Atlantic Class C season. The young man who affixed his signature on an Indian contract was Joseph "Joe" Frisina, former Oil City Refiners star.

President Al Scarazzo and Business Manager Jack Lewis made the trip to Corry yesterday and got Frisina in the Indians wigwag. The signing of Frisina, the best clutch hitter in the league last year, gives New Castle another potential .300 hitter in the 1951 lineup.

Frisina helped the Refiners considerably last year as they won the pennant, hitting a very healthy .325 Frisina can play second or short equally well.

Slugging Infield

As of the moment the Indians infield has Ted Toles, young Negro star as a first base prospect, the youngster having hit .400 last year in Eston, Canada, and on the mound turned in an 8 and 3 record. He is left handed all the way.

Frisina or Chet Butler at second and short, Butler having hit .355 last year at Vandergrift and Johnston, could be used at third or the outfield, and with his terrific hitting will be a valuable man. Lavigne hit .320 last year and banded out 20 home runs.

Milnar En Route South
Manager Al Milnar during his short stay here yesterday said that he will seek a third sacker at the Cleveland Indians farm-minor league tryout camp at Daytona Beach next week. Milnar will also seek two or three young hurlers for New Castle.

Milnar is driving to Florida and expects to reach camp Saturday or Sunday. He will workout with the Indians farmhands.

As of today the New Castle team can field a heavy slugging outfield—Walt Kowalski, former Johnston star in left, Lavigne in center and Rudy Johnston, a Negro star in right. Johnston was a Negro star in right. Johnston was a Negro star in right. Johnston was a Negro star in right.

DeCarbo Bombers To Meet Monday

DeCarbo Bombers softball team will have their first meeting of the year, Monday, April 2, at the Calabro club rooms on Division street, where plans will be discussed for the coming softball season.

All players from last year's squad, and any others interested are asked to attend.

DeCarbos will again participate in the City Softball League and in outside league play, as in the past. The Bombers last year won the Warren tournament and finished second in the City League.

BANTA SENT HOME

MIAMI, March 30.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that pitcher Jack Banta has left for New York to have his sore arm treated.

Brothers Meets Baker April 13

Will Fight In New York City

After Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, battles Levi Bryant, Tex., Monday night in Duquesne gardens, Pittsburgh, he will rest for a few days then return to training for a 10 round bout with Elkins Brothers of New Castle, at St. Nicholas rink, New York City, April 13. The International Boxing club announced the latter match yesterday.

According to a recent report Brothers had been matched to box Rex Layne in Boston, April 16. However, it is improbable that he would box twice within three days.

Bessemer High School Football And Basketball Players Honored

Football and basketball athletes of Bessemer high school of the current school year were honored Thursday evening at a banquet at the high school.

Anthony Capozzi, coach of Butler high school's AA football champions and former coach at Bessemer, was principal speaker of the evening.

He spoke of his football experiences while at Bessemer and advised high school players to buckle down to their studies if they expected to get offers to play at colleges.

Principal Victor Thomas opened the program, calling on Rev. E. Chester Crab to give the invocation. He then turned the meeting over to Carl E. Montgomery, who acted as toastmaster for his 22nd high school sports banquet.

Mr. Montgomery called upon Al Russo and Robert Glaspey, assistant coaches; John Brinton, Jr., president of the Bessemer schools board; Louie Kiminkinen, new member of the school board; Frank Pelt, custodian; and Charles Moser of the New Castle News before introducing the speaker of the evening.

After Mr. Capozzi's talk, the toastmaster called on head football and basketball coach, Bill Ciccone. Mr. Ciccone spoke briefly and introduced the members of the squads. Basketball and football letters had been given out at an assembly program earlier in the day and the only awards made at the banquet were jackets to the football seniors.

Athletic Awards
Awarded jackets were: Francis Schaville, Tom Shuluga, Angelo Pezzuolo, Joe DeRosa, James Gagliano, Anthony Galletta, Donald Moore, Ralph Sainato, Donald Serjak, John Soldo, and Russell Cracraft.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP
WPIAL sports followers again find two of its teams in the state basketball finals—Farrell in Class A and Avalon in Class B.

Both teams are close to Lawrence county fans by way of their play against local teams. Farrell, of course, is in New Castle's section, while Avalon handed the Wampum Indians their only defeat at the hands of a Class B five in the WPIAL playoffs.

Incidentally, if Farrell defeats Allentown Saturday night, it will be the third straight state title for a WPIAL team, and second from Section III in three years. Homestead won the title in 1950 and Allentown in 1949.

WPIAL Class A teams have reached the state finals every year for the past eight years. The last non-WPIAL team from the west to reach the finals was Farrell in 1943. The Steelers bowed to Lower Merion 29-28 in the finals that year.

Farrell joined Section III in 1945.

SHORT SHOTS
Julius McCoy, Farrell forward, has scored 469 points so far this season. . . Charlie Craig of Fredonia's state Class C champions scored 541 points during the past season, two more than he did in 1950. . . Highest number of points scored by a county player in a single season was the 521 set by Tom Hutchison of New Wilmington in 1950. . . Don Reed holds the New Castle High School mark with 411 in 1949.

Ford To Participate In Fencing Matches

John Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ford, 302 Cedar street, New Castle, and senior at Penn, will represent the college in the NCAA fencing championships to be held at the University of Illinois, March 30 and 31.

John has been a member of the fencing squad for three years, having participated in the NCAA matches last year and placing high in the final standings of the open competition.

Lakers Defeat Rochester, 76-73

Syracuse Trounces 'Knicks', 102 To 80

(By International News Service)

The Rochester Royals, who are playing the Minneapolis Lakers in a best three out of five series in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, do not subscribe to the theory that the Lakers have a one-man team in the person of George Mikan.

In the opening game of the series at Minneapolis last night, the peevish center scored 19 points before a sore ankle forced him to the bench. But Vern Mikkelsen, who replaced Mikan, proved to be even more potent poison for the Royals. All he did was to tally 25 points and spark the Lakers to a 76 to 73 win.

Syracuse Wins

The next game in the series will be played at Minneapolis tomorrow night. The winner of the series will qualify as the Western Division playoff champ to meet the survivor of the Syracuse-New York series in the Eastern Division.

Eddie Savyer's Whiz Kids looked real good in blanketing the Boston Braves, 5 to 0 yesterday. First of all, Bob Miller and rookie Jack Britton held the Braves to only four hits and only four Beantowners got as far as third base.

Willie Jones connected for a long homer and Ed Waitkus featured a thirteen-hit Phillie attack with three safeties.

The world champion New York Yankees erupted for seven runs in the fourth inning to down the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Schmitz, 7 to 5.

Avalon Meets Kutztown Tonight For "B" Title

PITTSBURGH, March 30—(INS)—Avalon high school meets Kutztown tonight at the stadium in Pittsburgh to decide the PIAA Class B State basketball championship.

Coach Harry Denniston's Panthers have a record this season of 24 won against three losses. Kutztown, coached by John Silan, boasts a season slate of 25-2.

The Cougars arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday and immediately went through a three-hour drill. Coach Silan admitted his team might need "a little luck."

"Avalon is tough, according to our scouting reports, and we both use the same offense," he said.

Diamond Dust

The Philadelphia Phillies are beginning to flash some of the early and mid-season form that led them to their first National League flag in 35 years last season.

Eddie Savyer's Whiz Kids looked real good in blanketing the Boston Braves, 5 to 0 yesterday. First of all, Bob Miller and rookie Jack Britton held the Braves to only four hits and only four Beantowners got as far as third base.

Willie Jones connected for a long homer and Ed Waitkus featured a thirteen-hit Phillie attack with three safeties.

Chicago Fighters Defeat Europeans Decisively, 6 To 2

CHICAGO, March 30—(INS)—The tough fists of Tony Zale, ex-middleweight champion of the world, were punching by proxy last night as Chicago's golden gloves team hammered to its third straight international amateur boxing championship over a select European delegation.

Tony quit the ring when he was stopped by the late Marcel Cerdan of France but he was in the corner of the American fighters as they scored a decisive 6 to 2 triumph over the cream of the European crop.

All the Chicago White Sox had of their spectacular new Venezuelan infielder was a homesick message from Garcia. Luis Garcia, 21-year-old rookie second base prospect, insisted upon leaving for home after less than 72 hours in camp.

J. J. Colando's Uncle Miltie may well be the winter-book favorite for the derby, having won eight of his 14 starts a year ago and carrying top weight in the experimental handicap.

THERE'S nothing like experience if you want to be the tops in your line. We know. We've had 72 years of it, and can truthfully say it is one of the main reasons we can produce such fine clothes and sell them at such moderate prices. With so much know-how, plus complete control over production and distribution, it is really no wonder Richman Brothers have the values. Indeed, it would be a wonder if we did not!

Social Security Office Making Special Effort

To Remain Open On Saturday In Effort To Benefit Public

The New Castle Social Security office will remain open for eight hours, to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 31, in an attempt on the part of a government agency to save the public money that is due them, it was announced today by Myron Milbourn, manager of the office.

This is being done to offer persons in this vicinity a last opportunity to prevent a loss of benefits in backlog claims.

Unless claims are filed by the last day of March, full back payments for the six months allowed in the law cannot be made, if:

1. You were 65 or over in September 1950.

2. You had at least 1½ years of work under social security.

3. You retired before or on September 1, 1950.

4. You are 75 years of age and still working.

It is important for everyone in the New Castle area who qualifies to visit the office in 500 Frew building, 10 West Washington street, without fail before March 31. It is for this reason that the Social Security office is disregarding its official office hours to remain open on Saturday.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet Monday

American Legion auxiliary No. 343 will have a business meeting on Monday evening, April 2, in the Legion Home at 8 o'clock.

NO RETRACTIONS

NEW YORK — (INS) — Samuel Bowles, a prominent journalist, never printed retractions in his newspaper. Cosmopolitan magazine reports that a farmer once visited Bowles, protesting that his newspaper carried a story saying the farmer had hanged himself. The editor thought for a while and then told the man: "We cannot violate our rules. The only thing we can do for you is to say that you were cut down from the beam before you were dead."

ASSESSING IN FIRST WARD

City triennial assessments have been completed in the fifth and sixth wards and assessments are now being made in the first ward.

New Paint Cleaner Retains Gloss

Have you ever cleaned walls or woodwork when the paint literally disappeared before your eyes? Perhaps your white woodwork formerly had a glorious gloss but after cleaning became flat and dull. Now you can retain the beauty of painted surfaces with the new C33 Concentrate. It removes the dirt but leaves the paint when used as directed. C33 is also ideal for cleaning venetian blinds, linoleum, refrigerators and tile. This new product now available at
